Loan Forbearance and Stopped Collections

While your claim is reviewed by the Department of Education, you can choose to have collections stopped on all of your federal loans eligible for cancellation through this application, including loans that are currently in default. This is called "forbearance."

Important: If you have other federal loans for other schools or programs not covered by this application, the Department of Education or loan holder will NOT stop collection on those loans unless you submit a separate application for that school or program.

During any period that your loans are in forbearance, you do not have to make payments on those loans, and the loans will not go into default. This will continue until the Department or loan holder has completed its review of your application.

Your loan servicer will notify you when your loan has been placed into forbearance. Until you receive that notice, you should continue to make payments. If you are unsure about whether your loans are in forbearance or have not received anything from your loan servicer, you may call your loan servicer to request or confirm that your loans are placed in forbearance and that the Department or loan holder has received your application.

At any time during the forbearance or stopped collections period, you may voluntarily make payments on your loans, including payments for accrued interest, or end the forbearance or stopped collections by contacting your servicer.

Note that interest will continue to accrue on all of these federal loans, including subsidized loans, during the forbearance or stopped collections period.

Borrower Name:	Borrower SSN (Last 4 Digits)	Page 5 of 5
If your claim is denied, you will not receive a cancellation of any of your loans and the forbearance or stopped collections period will end. At that time, you will be responsible for beginning repayment of these loans, including interest that accrued during the forbearance or stopped collections period, under the terms of your promissory note.
Do you want your loans placed in forbearance?  ☐ Yes, I want my federal loans to be placed in forbearance while my loan discharge claim is reviewed.
□ No, I do not want my federal loans to be placed in forbearance while my loan discharge claim is reviewed.
<ol> <li>I request that the Department of Education or other loan holder do all of the following:         <ol> <li>Completely discharge my federal student loans obtained to attend this school, including any interest, collection fees, or other fees charged on my loans.</li> </ol> </li> <li>Refund me any money I paid on these loans.</li> <li>Reinstate all Pell, GI Bill, or other federal grants I obtained to attend this school, so that I am eligible to obtain that amount of Pell, GI Bill, or other federal grants to pay for future higher education programs.</li> <li>Remove all credit history with all credit reporting agencies that have reported any information about these federal student loans.</li> </ol>
Rights and Responsibilities
The Department of Education or loan holder will decide your application within 60 days. If your application is denied, the Department or loan holder will notify you in writing the reasons and basis for the denial. At that time, you will have 60 days to appeal this decision by contacting in writing. If your application is denied, you may resubmit an amended application with additional facts and/or documents.
Any person who knowingly makes a false statement or misrepresentation on this form or any accompanying document is subject to penalties that may include fines, imprisonment, or both.
I will provide, upon request, testimony, a sworn statement, or other documentation reasonably available to me to demonstrate to the Department that I meet the qualifications for defense to repayment of my student loans.
If my defense is successful, upon request I will provide assistance and cooperation to the U.S. Department of Education in any proceedings or enforcement actions against the school related to my defense or the conduct asserted herein.
I hereby assign and transfer to the U.S. Department of Education any right to a refund on the amount cancelled that I receive from the school and/or any owners, affiliates, or assignees of the school, and from any third party that may pay claims for a refund because of the actions or omissions of the school, up to the amount cancelled by the Department or loan holder on my loans.
All of the information I am submitting is true and accurate to the best of my knowledge and belief.
