Going to School on Robo-signing: How to Help Borrowers and Stop the Abuses in Private Student Loan Collection Cases

I. Introduction

Predatory private student lending has shattered the dreams of many individuals who sought to better their lives through education. These loans have become a curse, rather than an opportunity, for a large and growing number of private student loan borrowers who are defaulting on their loans. Data is not publicly available on precisely which borrowers are defaulting – we don’t know which lenders, loan terms, or types of schools have led to higher defaults. The available data, however, strongly suggests that a large portion of private student loan (PSL) defaults are attributable to irresponsible lending practices that became particularly widespread up until the credit crisis in 2008. PSL origination during these boom years was driven partly by the demand for student loan asset backed securities (SLABS). These loans were characterized by high volume, lax underwriting, loan amounts higher than the cost of attendance, and variable interest rates with very high margins.4

Low-income and non-traditional student loan borrowers tend to default at higher rates. The aggressive marketing of PSLs most likely impacted these student borrowers more than others. While there was an overall increase in the percentage of undergraduates with PSLs from 5% in 1

2003-04 to 14% in 2007-09, increases were even larger among students at for-profit colleges (from 14.1% in 2003-04 to over 40% in 2007-08), and among students of color (increasing from 4.1% and 4.6% to 17.3% and 13.2% for African Americans and Hispanics, respectively). Default rates are high for all PSLs originated during the boom period, and get higher with each vintage of loan originations. Loans that are part of SLABS have particularly high default rates, with some pools of loans expected to experience lifetime default rates higher than 50%.

Private student loan holders have little incentive to modify the terms of PSLs for financially distressed borrowers. Like government loans, PSLs are only dischargeable in bankruptcy if they meet the high undue hardship standard. In addition, as defaulted PSLs made during the boom are approaching the end of the applicable statute of limitations periods, we are seeing an increase in collection lawsuits. Unfortunately, it is far too easy for private loan holders to obtain default judgments in these cases. Both of these factors most likely contribute to PSL holder unwillingness to work with borrowers unable to make their high loan payments.

The robo-signing scandals related to mortgage foreclosure documents and debt buyers have been widely publicized. Reported abuses include the widespread signing of affidavits by employees of servicers or debt buyers, third party contractors, and foreclosure firms who had no knowledge of the content of the papers they verified. Less publicized, however, is an apparent and growing robo-signing trend related to PSL collection actions. This paper seeks to shed light upon this troubling trend and provide recommendations about how to defend against these abuses in collection lawsuits and stem future abuses.

The plaintiffs in PSL lawsuits are not typically original lenders, such as financial institutions or for-profit colleges. Rather, the loans at issue have usually been transferred, sometimes multiple times, to one or more other entities. Plaintiffs therefore commonly include subsequent transferees or entities that have purchased a portfolio of student loans, such as holders of securitized loan pools or guarantors. They may also be entities that have merged with or acquired loan holders, as well as entities such as loan servicers or debt collection agencies that have been assigned student loan debts for the purpose of collection.

In many of these lawsuits, although the plaintiff may claim to be the holder of the loan at issue, it may not possess or produce admissible evidence that this is in fact the case. Indeed, the plaintiffs in these cases sometimes fail to provide the promissory note between the borrower and original lender, and they often do not provide documentation demonstrating that they have been assigned the borrowers’ loans. Based on our review of affidavits and evidence provided in these cases, in repeated instances the plaintiffs’ affidavits in support of judicial relief have been “robo-signed” – they often contain misleading or even outright incorrect information and reveal a lack of personal knowledge essential to prove an assignment of the subject loan.

This paper will identify a number of evidentiary deficiencies that may arise in PSL collection actions, based on our review of documents filed in these cases as well as similar problems observed in mortgage and debt buyer cases. The paper will also provide recommendations for stemming robo-signing abuses and protecting unrepresented PSL borrowers from default judgment abuses. Wherever possible, court decisions involving PSLs are cited. However, because these cases are just starting to make their way through the courts, we primarily cite to cases involving robo-signing in mortgage and debt buyer cases.

II. The Plaintiff’s Burden of Proof

In order to recover on a promissory note such as a student loan, a plaintiff/loan holder must prove that (1) the defendant signed the note; (2) the plaintiff is the present owner or holder of the note; and (3) the note is in default. The plaintiff must therefore produce the note as well as the documents that show an unbroken chain of assignment from the original creditor to the plaintiff.

The plaintiff in a PSL collection action is rarely the originating creditor. The plaintiff may be a creditor who purchased the loan, a securitization trust, or an entity that guaranteed the loan, such as an insurance company or non-profit organization (e.g., The Educational Resources Institute). Securitized debt typically involves multiple transfers from originating lenders to various intermediaries and eventually to a trust. Even non-securitized debts, for which the original lender may be a financial institution or a for-profit school, may be transferred more than once. Because of such multiple transfers, PSL plaintiffs may have been careless about maintaining documentation and may not be able to produce the note or document the chain of assignment.

There have been a number of recent lawsuits in which the plaintiff/loan holder has been unable to meet its burden. This section discusses the evidentiary deficiencies that we have observed or that may arise in these cases.

A. Requirement of Producing the Promissory Note

One element of the plaintiff’s burden is producing the promissory note. In order to recover on a breach of contract claim, the plaintiff must prove not only that the borrower has assented to a contract but the actual terms of that contract. This means that the collector must produce the 11 See, e.g., Educap, Inc. v. Smith, 362 S.W.3d 451 (Mo. Ct. App. 2012) (reversing trial court decision that plaintiff PSL holder failed to make a submissible breach of contract case; although the assignment between the original lender and plaintiff was not particularly pleaded, evidence of the assignment should have been admitted because plaintiff sufficiently pleaded that it was the legal owner of the note); Student Loan Marketing Ass’n v. Holloway, 25 S.W.3d 699, 704 (Mo. Ct. App. 2000) (remanding federal Health Education Assistance Loan case for lender’s failure to lay adequate foundation in connecting endorsement to promissory notes). See generally National Consumer Law Center, Collection Actions §§ 4.3.4, 4.5.3 (2d ed. 2011 and Supp.); National Consumer Law Center, Foreclosures ch. 5 (4th ed. 2012 and Supp.).

12 See National Consumer Law Center, Foreclosures § 1.3.3.4 (4th ed. 2012 and Supp.) (overview of all parties and documents typically involved in a securitization transaction).
actual contract or note that the borrower has agreed to, with some evidence that the borrower has, in fact, agreed to it. Ordinarily, proving that the borrower has agreed to a contract requires little more than producing the actual promissory note bearing the borrower’s signature. Surprisingly, some private loan plaintiffs may have difficulty doing this.

In addition, if the plaintiff produces a standard form contract, it must prove it is the version of the contract that the particular consumer agreed to. An unsigned form contract is not sufficient. Indeed, in a variety of contexts, courts have dismissed cases where the collector submits a generic, undated, and unsigned “customer agreement” that does not even contain the consumer’s name or any indicia relating the document to the consumer. Moreover, the collector must provide a complete copy of the note, meaning that it should include all pages and all attachments. Evidence of a contract has been found insufficient when the contract contained blanks for several important terms and failed to include referenced attachments, even when a debt buyer’s employee testified at trial that the contract was applicable to the consumer.

Appendix 1 contains an example of a case in which a student loan collector was unable to produce a complete copy of the promissory note. In that case, the plaintiff loan guarantor, Arrowood Indemnity Co., produced only the first page of a multiple page Application and Promissory Note. In order to deal with the missing pages, the plaintiff produced a “Lost or Missing Original Loan Document or Promissory Note Affidavit and Indemnification Agreement” from Arrowood Capital Corp. This form indicates that the promissory note was “Lost in Transfer” and is signed by an “authorized officer” possibly of Sallie Mae. The plaintiff in this case agreed to dismiss the case with prejudice, based on part upon its inability to produce the complete promissory note. Had this case proceeded to a determination on the merits, the plaintiff would have had difficulty meeting its burden of proving the actual terms of the contract the borrower assented to, and the affidavit produced would likely have been insufficient for meeting that burden.

Appendix 2 contains another example. In this case, the plaintiff National Collegiate Student Loan Trust 2007-3 provided the first page of the Loan Request/Credit Agreement Signature Page with the borrower’s signature. However, rather than producing a copy of the actual pages that were attached to the Signature Page, the plaintiff produced a standard form contract. The trial court granted judgment for the defendants, based on the issues identified in the next section. Had the case proceeded and the plaintiff failed to produce a witness who had personal knowledge sufficient to testify that the standard form contract was in fact the contract that plaintiff signed (or would have signed at the time because this, for example, was the only contract the original lender used), it is likely that the plaintiff would have failed to meet its burden.

B. Proving Ownership of the Note

In order to obtain a judgment, the plaintiff must also show that it owns the note. In other words, the plaintiff must establish that it is the real party in interest or that it has the authority to collect on behalf of a loan holder that is the real party in interest. Typically, state civil procedure rules require that actions be brought in the name of the real party in interest if standing to sue is to be conferred.23

Whether the action is brought on behalf of another or by an entity in its own right, there must be a written assignment to the loan holder giving it the right to sue on the debt. When challenged, the plaintiff must produce such a written assignment. In many instances in the student loan context there may be multiple assignments, in which case the plaintiff must demonstrate a continuous, unbroken chain of assignment from the original creditor to itself in order to prosecute the action.24 Therefore, a borrower sued on a loan should always ascertain whether or not the plaintiff has established such a chain.25

One way to analyze this is to create a flow chart to map out all of the various assignors and assignees and locate defects or breaks in the chain of assignment. In creating this flow chart, a borrower should start with the original creditor on the promissory note, and then try to fill in 23 See, e.g., Cal. Code of Civ. Proc. § 367 (“Every action must be prosecuted in the name of the real party in interest, except as otherwise provided by statute.”).

everything in between from that original creditor to the plaintiff bringing the complaint. This will help the borrower to craft discovery requests and identify possible issues to raise with the court, either through evidentiary or substantive motions.26

For loans that have been securitized, there may also be helpful information on the Electronic Data Gathering, Analysis, and Retrieval system (“EDGAR”) maintained by the Securities and Exchange Commission. For example, SEC Form 8-Ks (current reports) and Form 10-Ks (annual reports) should be available for student loan trusts.

An example of a flow chart is included in Appendix 1.27 In this case, according to the promissory note, the original lender was Richland State Bank.28 Based on the documents produced by the plaintiff, it appears that both SLM Education Credit Finance Corp. and Bank One Trustee for EFG Financing might at some point have been owners of the borrower’s loan.29 In addition, according to the Transfer of Ownership document, the borrower’s loan was eventually transferred from “Sallie Mae” to the plaintiff Arrowood Indemnity Co.30 No other assignment or transfer documents were produced by the plaintiff. The plaintiff therefore failed to produce documentation of the assignments between Richland State Bank and Sallie Mae. Based on part on this lack of assignment documentation, the plaintiff agreed to dismiss this case with prejudice.

Another sample flow chart is included in Appendix 2.31 In this case, the Credit Agreement Signature Page identified Union Federal Savings Bank as the original lender.32 The plaintiff, a National Collegiate Student Loan Trust, claimed that the loan was transferred from the original lender to National Collegiate Funding, LLC, via a Note Purchase Agreement, and provided a Pool Supplement which referred to a listing of transferred loans in “Schedule 1.”33 The plaintiff also provided a Roster claiming to identify the borrower’s loan, although the plaintiff provided no information about how the Roster related to the Pool Supplement or to Schedule 1 (which it did not provide).34 The plaintiff further claimed that National Collegiate Funding, LLC then transferred the borrower’s loan to the plaintiff NCLST, and provided a Deposit and Sales agreement that referred to the Pool Supplement.35 The plaintiff, however, failed to produce any document showing that these transfers involved the individual loan at issue. The court granted judgment to the borrowers based on the plaintiff’s failure to prove it owned the loan at issue.36

When reconstructing and analyzing the chain of assignment from the original creditor to the plaintiff, there is a possibility that documents have been robo-signed. Whenever a case involves any of the robo-signing issues described next, the plaintiff may not be able to prove that it is the real party in interest (among other things). The borrower should be careful not to admit that the plaintiff is the current holder of the loan and should consider raising the real-party-in-interest issues as an affirmative defense.

The issue may also be grounds for a motion to dismiss or to strike, a motion for summary judgment, or a motion for judgment as a matter of law, as well as motions to compel or other evidentiary motions. A borrower may use flow charts in order to show missing links in the chain of ownership to prove that the plaintiff has failed to meet its burden. In educating the court, the borrower should explain why this issue is significant and, in particular, should point out that there is the potential for double liability if the correct holder is not the one pursuing the action and the borrower is then sued a second time by the correct holder.

1. Does the Affidavit Contain Conclusory Statements?

Collectors often use affidavits to aid a motion for summary judgment or default judgment. In the student loan collection context, affidavits are used to demonstrate ownership of the loan at issue. General statements in an affidavit that are simply conclusions of law or fact do not prove a case. Thus, an affidavit containing conclusory statements regarding ownership is insufficient; the plaintiff must attach the actual contracts of assignment.

2. Is the Specific Account Identified?

The plaintiff’s documentation of each and every assignment must also reference the specific account at issue. For example, debt buyers often produce a detailed contract or bill of sale delineating the relationship between the debt buyer’s assignor and the debt buyer, but the document will make reference only generally to thousands of accounts being purchased at the same time and will not identify the consumer’s account. This evidence is not enough. Each assignment document must indicate that one of the thousands of accounts the debt buyer has purchased is the account at issue in the lawsuit.

PLS plaintiffs have attempted to use SEC filings downloaded from EDGAR in order to establish they own the loans referenced in a given complaint.\textsuperscript{41} However, while a court may take limited judicial notice of documents from the SEC website, it should not take judicial notice for the purposes of establishing a disputed fact – namely, that a PSL was included in that pool of loans if the individual PSL is not clearly identified in the SEC documents.\textsuperscript{42}

3. Are the Affidavits Based Upon Personal Knowledge?

Affidavits must be based on personal knowledge and show affirmatively that the affiant is competent to testify as to the matters stated therein.\textsuperscript{43} Thus, an affidavit must indicate the source of the affiant’s knowledge\textsuperscript{44} and is not admissible if it states that it is made “on information and belief” or “to the best of my knowledge and belief.”\textsuperscript{45}

An employee of a plaintiff loan holder or a third-party custodian of records does not usually have the personal knowledge necessary to authenticate a document memorializing an assignment between other parties in the chain of transfers, even if that document is retained in the loan holder’s or custodian of record’s regular course of business. The affiant must have personal knowledge of the creation, maintenance and transmission of the assignment documents by the generating entity. An employee of a subsequent loan holder or custodian of records typically lacks this kind of firsthand knowledge.\textsuperscript{46} Therefore, a borrower should make queries of any affiant who testifies about the transfer documents, such as: What are the affiant’s job duties? Where is the affiant’s office and how often is s/he there? How many files does the affiant maintain? How many files does the affiant process in a month? In a day? Is such processing, in fact, physically possible?

Indeed, an employee of a custodian of records typically will not be able to certify records created by the original creditor. To certify business records the affiant must be familiar with the record keeping practices of the entity that created them – the habits and customary practices and procedures utilized in making the documents.\textsuperscript{47} Thus, an employee of a third party must show personal knowledge as to the creation, maintenance, and transmission of the records by the entity generating the original records, as well as how the third party obtained those records and integrated those records into its own business records.\textsuperscript{48} The affiant must be able to certify that the documents were made in generating entity’s regular course of business, that it was this entity’s regular practice to make the documents, and that this entity created the documents contemporaneously with the facts that were recorded.\textsuperscript{49} When the affiant is not an employee of the company generating the original records, then the affiant has the burden of showing an understanding of the daily operation and firsthand knowledge of the recordkeeping by the other entity.\textsuperscript{50} An affidavit has no probative value when the affiant’s claimed familiarity with the assignor’s business records is derived solely from the affiant’s review of those records after they came into the possession of the custodian of record.\textsuperscript{51}

One should also watch out for special issues relating to electronic evidence, since electronic records create special authentication issues. Has the record been preserved during the time it was in the electronic file so as to assure that the document being proffered is the same as the document that was originally created? This issue raises questions not only about the computer equipment and programs used but policies for use of the equipment, database and programs, how access is controlled, how changes are recorded, what the audit system is, and the like.\textsuperscript{52} Thus, the affiant must have special knowledge of the computer system, database, access, and related issues before electronic records can be admitted.\textsuperscript{53} Courts have viewed with favor\textsuperscript{54} an eleven-step foundation for computer records suggested by E. Imwinkelried’s \textit{Evidentiary Foundations}, a description of which can be found in National Consumer Law Center’s Collection Actions manual.\textsuperscript{55}

4. Does the Material Evince a Lack of Trustworthiness?

Other features of an affidavit may indicate that the affiant’s testimony is not trustworthy.\textsuperscript{56} For instance, a standard fill-in-the-blank affidavit indicates a lack of trustworthiness, as it raises the question of whether the affiant actually reviewed the borrower’s account or the documents about which the affiant is testifying.\textsuperscript{57} In addition, one should review the documents attached to an affidavit and the statements in the affidavit for inconsistencies. The presence of inconsistencies between the documents and the affidavit itself will call into question the evidence being proffered both by the affidavit and by the documents.\textsuperscript{58} Similarly, look for inconsistencies between the documents attached and the complaint or motions that refer to facts alleged in the affidavit or documents.

One should also check for deficiencies in the affidavit’s signature and notarization. Is the name of the individual signing the affidavit disclosed on the affidavit? Is the affidavit properly signed and notarized? It is important to assess the sufficiency of the notarization, since robo-signing operations often can be sloppy on that score. For example, it is not uncommon for an affidavit to assert that it has been signed by the affiant in one state, while asserting that the affiant appeared before the notary in a different state.\textsuperscript{59} One should also review the documentation the notary keeps of his/her notarizations and research whether his/her practice comports fully with state requirements. Such documentation may also provide additional information about the robo-signing practices of the plaintiff or custodian of records.

Some states also require that an affidavit disclose the affiant’s employer. In addition, the borrower should research whether there is any evidence that the loan holder or custodian of records previously engaged in robo-signing or other deceptive collection practices (based on previous lawsuits or investigations). If so, this may be enough to persuade a court to question an affiant’s trustworthiness.

An example of an affidavit and exhibits demonstrating many of these deficiencies is contained in Appendix 2. The Affidavit of Chandra Alphabet was filed in support of the plaintiff NCSLT’s \textsuperscript{56} See, e.g., Lubar v. Connelly, 2014 WL 536998 (Me. Feb. 1, 2014) (original lender’s affidavit lacked overall trustworthiness); Beneficial Maine Inc. v. Carter, 25 A.3d 96 (Me. 2011) (employee did not establish that she was a “custodian or other qualified witness” who could provide trustworthy and reliable information about the regularity of the creation, transmission, and retention of the records offered, and therefore her affidavit could not establish the foundation for the records’ admissibility); HSBC Mortgage Servs., Inc., 19 A.3d 815 (Me. 2011) (affidavits submitted by HSBC contained serious irregularities that made them “inherently untrustworthy”); C & W Acquisition, L.L.C. v. Somogyi, 136 S.W.3d 134 (Mo. Ct. App. 2004) (“the bottom line” regarding the admissibility of the business records is the discretionary determination by the trial court of their trustworthiness); Martinez v. Midland Credit Mgmt., 250 S.W.3d 481 (Tex. App. 2008) (affiant did not indicate in any way that he had any knowledge of the predecessor’s record-keeping policies or that the records were trustworthy); Luke v. Unifund CCR Partners, 2007 WL 2460327 (Tex. App. Aug. 31, 2007) (holding that that affidavit did not constitute proper summary judgment evidence due to lack of personal knowledge and lack of trustworthiness, where affiant did not state the factual basis for statements or attach to her affidavit a certified or sworn copy of the agreement between the collecting entity and the original creditor).

\textsuperscript{58} See National Consumer Law Center, Collection Actions §§ 4.2.3.4., 4.2.4.2 (2d ed. 2011 and Supp.). See also National Consumer Law Center, Foreclosures § 5.5.2 (4th ed. 2012 and Supp.).

motion for summary judgment. It is a standard “fill-in-the-blank” form, suggesting that the affiant merely inserted her name, the names of the borrowers, the loan account number, and amounts owed without reviewing any documents.

The affidavit contains a number of inconsistencies and conclusory statements, including the assertion that the loan at issue was transferred from “Lender to the current Plaintiff,” although the attached exhibits state otherwise. The affidavit also states that the business records attached show that the borrower’s loan account is “listed in Schedule 1 attached hereto.” However, none of the exhibits are titled “Schedule 1.” In addition, the borrower’s specific account is not identified in either of the alleged transfer documents – the Pool Supplement and the Deposit and Sale Agreement. It is identified in a “Roster” but there is no information about how this document relates to either of the alleged transfer documents.

The substance of this affidavit also raises questions as to the personal knowledge of the affiant. She is an employee of the custodian of records—NCO Financial Systems, a debt collector (and one that is the subject of an injunction and judgment obtained by the FTC for debt collection violations). She is not an employee of any of the entities that may have created the documents at issue. In the affidavit, Chandra Alphabet states, “I have reviewed the chain of title records as business records in this affidavit.” A mere review of business records, however, is not sufficient to render these documents admissible. Although the affiant states that she has personal knowledge of the “business record management practices and procedures of Plaintiff and the practices and procedures Plaintiff requires of its loan servicers and other agents,” she does not state that she has personal knowledge of the creation of the records. Thus, these records should not be admissible. Without these documents, it is unlikely that the plaintiff would be able to prove its ownership of the borrower’s loan.

5. Is Each Entity That Assigned the Loan Identical to the Entity That Assigns the Loan to the Next Loan Holder?

For each link in the chain of ownership, the entity that has been assigned a debt must be identical to the entity that subsequently assigns it to the next assignee in the chain. To mention just one example, an appellate court found no standing to bring a collection action when the chain of ownership was broken because the chain included a sale to Union Acceptance Corporation and then a sale from a different entity, Union Acceptance Co., L.L.C., without any transfer between these two entities. Organizations and ownership may change due to bankruptcy, mergers and acquisitions, and other similar events. In these cases, the transfer of the ownership to the new or emerging entities must also be documented.

6. If the Plaintiff is Not a Loan Holder, Has the Loan Holder Assigned the Plaintiff the Right to Bring an Action on Its Behalf?

It is important to distinguish between a case brought by a plaintiff to collect a debt it claims to own and a case brought by a debt collection agency or loan servicer suing on the loan holder’s behalf. In that latter case, the plaintiff must produce a document showing that the loan holder has granted it the right to sue on the debt. An affidavit stating that there is such an assignment is not sufficient. The plaintiff must also prove that the entity that is assigning those rights has the right to pursue the collection action.

III. Robo-Signing and Default Judgments

We reviewed the pleadings filed in 2011 and 2012 by various National Collegiate Student Loan Trusts (NCSLTs) in two different state courts. Here are the results of our review of the 101 cases filed in California’s Sacramento County Superior Court:

In every single case in which the plaintiff obtained a default judgment, the affidavits filed in support suffered from most of the robo-signing defects described in Section II. We have attached relevant pleadings and attachments from one case in Appendix 3.

- The affidavits were all standard form/fill-in-the-blank affidavits.
- They were all signed by one of five First Marblehead Education Resources (“FMER”) employees.
- FMER is identified as the custodian of records on all the affidavits, not an owner or former owner of the loans at issue.

CACV of Colo., L.L.C., 707 S.E.2d 872 (Ga. Ct. App. 2011) (affidavit provides that JP Morgan Chase & Co. assigned debt to debt buyer, but debt was with Chase Manhattan Bank).

69 See National Consumer Law Center, Collection Actions § 4.3.4 (2d ed. 2011 and Supp.).

70 It appears that these cases were dismissed due to a failure to serve the defendants.

71 See, e.g., Appendix 3 at pp. 77-78.

72 Id. (signed by Hollie J. Prince). The other 4 affiants were Julie Schoor, Colleen Morgan, Francesca Giampiccolo, and Meagan Carabello.
For ownership documents, only a Pool Supplement regarding a transfer of a loan pool between the original lender and an intermediary entity is attached to each affidavit.\(^7^4\)

The individual loans transferred are not identified in any Pool Supplement, nor is the “Schedule I” referred to in each Pool Supplement, which allegedly identifies the individual loans transferred, attached to any of the affidavits.\(^7^5\)

No affidavit included any documents showing the transfer of the loans at issue from the intermediary owner to the plaintiff. Instead, a purported “Account Statement History” was attached.\(^7^6\)

The affidavits do not even refer to or identify the Pool Supplements. If they had, it does not appear that the affiants had the personal knowledge necessary to authenticate these documents. (“The facts set forth below are based on my own personal knowledge upon review of the contents of defendants’ education loan records, and the record management practices and procedures of plaintiff’s loan servicers and other agents.”)\(^7^7\)

The affidavits include only the first page of the signed promissory note, with a form promissory note attached.\(^7^8\) None of the affiants stated whether the form promissory note would have been the note that the borrowers signed, nor do the affiants appear to have the personal knowledge to do so.

At least in California the plaintiffs made some attempt to show that they are the actual owners of the loans at issue, although this is not required by the applicable California Code of Civil Procedure provisions.\(^7^9\) This is not the case in Ohio. Here are the results of our review of 116 cases filed in 2011 and 2012 in Ohio’s Franklin Court of Common Pleas:

As in California, the plaintiffs sometimes filed declarations of an employee of FMER, identified as the custodian of records, in support of the motions for default judgment. In these cases, the affiants are one of the same five people who are the affiants in California. The plaintiffs also filed motions for default judgment without any supporting affidavits. None of the affidavits or motions addressed or included assignment documents. They only included information about the amount owed and the existence of the debt. In addition, the plaintiffs typically provided only the first page of a promissory note signed by the borrowers, sometimes accompanied by a copy of the other pages from a form note. These cases also suffered from many of the other defects described in Section II.

Why should we be concerned about these default judgments? Many student loan borrowers who are sued do not defend their lawsuits for several reasons. They may not be aware of their rights or they may not have access to an attorney whom they can afford. They may not have been properly served. And these cases often involve very large debts. In the California case in Appendix 3, a default judgment in the amount of $45,000 was entered against the co-borrowers. These co-borrowers were also sued by an NCSLT trust in 6 other cases, which resulted in default judgments totaling an additional $85,401. In the Ohio cases in Appendices 4 and 5, default judgments were entered in the amounts of $26,507 and $35,402, respectively.

Once a plaintiff obtains a judgment, the plaintiff will have the right to, among other things, garnish wages and seize non-exempt residential property, both of which are essential to the economic well-being of the low-income borrowers who are most likely to be defendants in these cases. Given the size of these debts, default judgments could negatively impact the well-being of a borrower and her family for many years.

Yet many of these borrowers may have a number of valid defenses. As discussed above, they may have defenses related to a loan holder’s inability to prove the terms of the loan or provide adequate evidence of ownership. This is important because if the actual holder is not the one pursuing the action, then the borrower could be sued again by the actual holder. The consumer should not have to pay a debt to one party, only to find out later that another party is the true owner and that the consumer must now pay the same debt again to this second party.

Viable defenses could also be based upon discrepancies or mistakes relating to the amount of money allegedly owed. The borrower may not actually owe the debt because he/she is not the correct defendant or someone stole his/her identity or forged his/her signature on the promissory note. In addition, the borrower may have a defense based on the statute of limitations. Unlike government loans, PSLs are subject to the applicable state statute of limitations. Usually, the statute of limitation applicable to PSLs is the period governing a breach of a written contract.

Private loan borrowers may also have a number of counterclaims. Among others, private student lenders are subject to special Truth in Lending Act (“TILA”) requirements, and borrowers may recover damages for violations of the TILA rules. Lenders are also subject to the anti-discrimination provisions of the Equal Credit Opportunity Act (“ECOA”), as well as ECOA notice and record-keeping requirements.

A borrower may also have a potential defense or counterclaim involving the Federal Trade Commission’s Rule on Preservation of Consumer Claims and Defenses (“FTC Holder Rule”), which addresses the issue of creditor and assignee liability for seller misconduct. This Rule operates by way of a notice placed in consumer credit agreements whereby, as a matter of the contract itself, the parties agree that the consumer may raise seller-related defenses and claims against the holder of the note or contract. The FTC’s Statement of Basis and Purpose for the Rule states that it applies to vocational training. The FTC Holder Rule applies to “sellers,” broadly defined as sellers of goods or services to consumers, thus covering for-profit vocational schools.

The language of the FTC Holder Rule notice makes clear that consumers may raise not only defenses but also affirmative claims against the holder of a credit agreement. A consumer cannot recover under the FTC Holder Rule more than the amount the consumer has paid on the loan plus cancellation of the remaining indebtedness, but there is no limit upon the creditor’s liability for its own conduct.

It is likely that many of the borrowers who are defendants in PSL collection lawsuits attended for-profit schools. A number of studies affirm that the type of institution attended is correlated with default. For-profit colleges consistently have the highest federal student loan default rates. Although for-profit schools enrolled just 13% of students nationally, 46% of the students who entered repayment in 2010 and defaulted by 2012 were for-profit school students.

87 See National Consumer Law Center, Collection Actions § 3.5.4.2 (2d ed. 2011 and Supp.). In cases where the breach of written contract period has expired, the plaintiff may argue that a longer statute of limitation period applies. For example, in California the statute of limitations for breach of written contract is four years, while the statute of limitations for collection of a negotiable instrument is six years. See Cal. Civ. Pro. Code § 337; Cal. Com. Code § 3118. See n. 20, supra, for cases that discuss whether student loan notes are negotiable instruments.

88 See National Consumer Law Center, Student Loans § 11.4 (4th ed. 2010 and Supp.).

89 See, e.g., Abel v. Keybank, 2005 WL 2216938 (N.D. Ohio Sept. 12, 2005) (awarding attorney fees for TILA claims, the only claims that survived the motion to dismiss).

91 This Rule is discussed in National Consumer Law Center, Student Loans § 11.9.2 (4th ed. 2010 and Supp.) and Federal Deception Law ch. 4 (1st ed. 2012 and Supp.).

93 16 C.F.R. § 433(1)(b).

94 See National Consumer Law Center, Student Loans § 11.6.3.7 (4th ed. 2010 and Supp.).

addition, the for-profit school sector had a three year average default rate of 21.8%, which was significantly higher than the three year default rates for public schools (13.0%) and private non-profit schools (8.2%). Borrowing rates are also highest in the for-profit sector.

For-profit schools are much more likely to engage in deceptive and other illegal business practices than public or private non-profit schools, as is documented in detail by a recent Senate Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions Committee Report. It is therefore these students who are most likely to have school-related claims that they could raise against PSL holders. It is also these students who are most likely defaulting on their PSLs and having default judgments entered against them.

IV. Recommendations

There are several ways to provide relief to student loan borrowers already harmed by these robo-signing practices and prevent future abuses.

1. Law Enforcement Actions Against Private Student Loan Holders Engaging in Robo-Signing Practices

Law enforcement agencies, including state attorneys general and the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, could investigate and take action against private student loan holders engaging in robo-signing. The filing of collection lawsuits and obtaining default judgments based upon robo-signed affidavits and inadequate evidence of the terms and ownership of a debt may constitute an actionable unfair and deceptive business practice (“UDAP”). This type of conduct is markedly similar to the practice of robo-signing in the mortgage foreclosure context. Not only could a law enforcement agency obtain injunctive relief against the future use of robo-signing practices, it could also obtain relief for victims of the practice, including monetary relief and requiring the offending student loan holders to vacate all default judgments obtained.

100 See U.S. et. al. v. Bank of America Corp. et al., Civil Action No. 1:12-CV-00361-RMC, Complaint at ¶¶ 63, 105-107 (D.D.C. Mar. 14, 2012) (alleging robo-signing practices as basis for one of multiple UDAP counts in nationwide mortgage practices complaint filed by state attorneys general and U.S.). See generally Raymond H. Brescia, Leverage: State Enforcement Actions in the Wake of the Robo-Sign Scandal, 64 Me. L. Rev. 17 (2011) (exploring “the availability of UDAP laws and the remedies they provide to rein in the range of practices revealed in the so-called ‘Robo-Sign Scandal,’” concluding “that such practices - the false affidavits, reckless claims, and improper notarizations - all violate the essence of most state UDAP laws; accordingly, the remedies available under such laws may be wielded by state attorneys general to halt abusive foreclosure practices throughout the nation.”).
2. Impose Minimum Evidentiary Burdens on All Plaintiffs in Collection Actions, Including Plaintiffs Who Seek Default Judgments

States could enact statutes that protect consumers by requiring both student loan holders and other plaintiffs collecting on consumer debts to prove a number of things before they may obtain judgments. Legislation could be modeled on the National Consumer Law Center’s Model Family Financial Protection Act (the “Model Act”). The Model Act requires, among other things, that a plaintiff in a consumer debt collection case must prove: (1) that it is the real party in interest who owns the loan and has the right to collect on it; and (2) it has possession of at least a copy of the original contract, or other documentation evidencing the consumer’s liability.

In many states, courts or judicial councils are tasked with promulgating state rules of court. Thus, depending on state law, a judicial council or court could enact court rules requiring minimum evidentiary requirements for all plaintiffs in consumer debt collection cases, including requirements for default judgments. Such requirements could similarly include that the plaintiff provide evidence that it is the real party in interest and has sufficient documentation evidencing the consumer’s liability.

3. Consumer Financial Protection Bureau Could Define Robo-Signing Practices in the Private Student Loan Context as Unfair, Deceptive or Abusive

The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB) could enact rules to both prohibit and prevent the robo-signing practices described above. The Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protect Act (the Act) provides that it “is unlawful for . . . any covered person or service provider to engage in any unfair, deceptive, or abusive act or practice.” The Act further provides the CFPB with the authority to prescribe rules to identify and prevent unfair, deceptive or abusive acts or practices (UDAAP).

Covered persons are defined to include “any person that engages in offering or providing a consumer financial product or service . . . .” A financial product or service means “extending credit and servicing loans, including acquiring, purchasing, selling, brokering, or other extensions of credit . . . .” It also means “collecting debt related to any consumer financial product or service.” Thus, private student loan holders, even when they are not original lenders, are subject to the CFPB’s broad UDAAP authority.

102 See, e.g., Cal. Const. art. 6, § 6(d) (“To improve the administration of justice the [judicial] council shall . . . adopt rules for court administration, practice and procedure, and perform other functions prescribed by statute.”); W. Va. Code § 51-1-4 (supreme court of appeals may make and promulgate court rules and regulations governing pleading, practice and procedure, and judicial council is designated as advisory committee to make observations and report recommendations that it deems proper). See also Rules of Practice and Procedure, 21 C.J.S. Courts § 178 (describing method of adoption of court rules); Annotation, Purposes and Functions – Court Rules, Pattern Instructions, and Guidelines, 47 Am. Jur. 2d Judicial Councils and Conferences § 3.
The CFPB could therefore adopt many of the provisions of the Model Family Financial Protection Act. At a minimum, rules could prohibit student loan creditors/loan holders from filing a collection action unless they attach to the complaint (1) a legible copy of the entire original promissory signed by the borrower and (2) documentation of a complete chain of title for the debt if it has been transferred, including proof that the individual borrower’s loan was transferred for each link of the chain. The CFPB could also prohibit student loan holders from seeking default judgments without this same documentation attached to supporting affidavits signed by affiants that meet minimum standards that address the problems described above.

VARIABLE RATE: The Annual Percentage Rate, which is based on an index plus a margin, may increase during the term of the loan if the index rate increases. The index is (check one):

- [ ] Prime Rate Index Adjusted Monthly - The highest U.S. bank prime rate published in the "Money Rates" section of The Wall Street Journal (Eastern Edition) on the last business day of each calendar month.
- [ ] Prime Rate Index Adjusted Quarterly - The highest U.S. bank prime rate published in the "Money Rates" section of The Wall Street Journal (Eastern Edition) on the last business day of each calendar quarter.
- [ ] LIBOR Index Adjusted Quarterly - The average of the one-month London Interbank Offered Rates published in the "Money Rates" section of The Wall Street Journal (Eastern Edition) on the first business day of each month totaling the index rate of each of the three (3) calendar months immediately preceding the first day of each calendar quarter.
- [ ] LIBOR Index Adjusted Monthly - The one-month London Interbank Offered Rate published in the "Money Rates" section of The Wall Street Journal (Eastern Edition) on the first business day of the preceding calendar month.

Any increase in the index and the Annual Percentage Rate which occurs while principal payments are deferred will increase the amount of any current and all future payments. Any increase in the index and the Annual Percentage Rate which occurs while principal and interest payments are deferred will increase the amount of all future payments. Any increase in the index and the Annual Percentage Rate which occurs after you have began to make principal and interest payments on your Loan will increase the amount of your future principal and interest payments beginning with your next annual payment adjustment date. For example, assume you obtain a loan in your junior year, in the amount of $10,000, at an interest rate of 11%, and you defer principal and interest payments until after your graduation, and the repayment term of the loan is 20 years. If the interest rate increased to 12% on January 1st of your senior year, the interest which accrues while principal and interest payments are deferred will increase by $91.01, and your monthly principal and interest payments would increase by $9.37.

LATE CHARGES: If a payment is more than 15 days late, you may be charged 3% or 5% of the payment, whichever is less. If you default, Lender (or any subsequent holder of your Loan Note) may increase the interest rate to compute the Annual Percentage Rate by two percentage points (2%).

If you pay off early, you will not have to pay a penalty.

Estimates: All numerical disclosures except the late payment disclosure are estimates.

See your credit documents for any additional information about non-payment, default, any required repayment in full before the scheduled dates, any security interest and prepayment refunds and penalties.

(a) Undergraduate Alternative Loan Program: I have elected the "Immediate Repayment Option" (the applicable repayment option is stated on the first page of this Credit Agreement), there is no Deferment Period, and my first payment will be 30-60 days after the disbursement of my loan. I have elected the "Interest Only" repayment option (the applicable repayment option is stated on the first page of this Credit Agreement) and that my loan interest payments begin 30-60 days after the disbursement of my loan. If I elect the "Interest Only" repayment option, the Deferment End Date will be the date the student Borrower first graduates or ceases to be enrolled at least half-time in the School (or another school participating in this loan program). If you have elected the "Deferred Full" repayment option, the Deferment End Date will be 20 days after the date the student Borrower first graduates or ceases to be enrolled at least half-time in the School (or another school participating in this loan program). In any event, if you have elected the "Deferred Full" repayment option, the Deferment End Date will be 180 days after the date the student Borrower first graduates or ceases to be enrolled at least half-time in the School (or another school participating in this loan program). Borrowers who choose the "Interest Only" or "Deferred Full" repayment options, joint and several (associate by marriage or marriage) degree recipients may continue in school deferment while compling their second degree, up to the 5-year or 5/4-year maximum.
3. Repayment Period: My Monthly Payment Amount will be calculated as of the day the Repayment Period begins ("Repayment Date"). It will be recalculated (a) once each year prior to the anniversary of the Repayment Date, (b) if the Variable Rate changes between anniversaries of the Repayment Date in the stated that the Monthly Payment Amount would not pay in full the accrued monthly interest on my loan, (c) following any subsequent deposit or forbearance period or (d) following any request by the Borrower to the servicer to change the monthly payment due date (each of which events is a new "Repayment Date"). As of any Repayment Date, my Monthly Payment Amount will be recalculated. My new Monthly Payment Amount will be disbursed to me by the servicer. The new Monthly Payment Amount will require the amount necessary to pay in full, over the number of months remaining in the Repayment Period, the amount I owe in equal monthly installments of principal and interest at the Variable Rate in effect at the time of the calculation. I understand that during the Repayment Period (and, if I have elected the "Interest Only" repayment option, during the period of interest payments) the servicer may charge the monthly payment due date for future payments to a servicer or in order to coordinate the due dates of all of my loans processed by the servicer.

4. Amounts Owed at the End of the Repayment Period: Since interest accrues only upon the unpaid principal balance of my loan, if I make payments after my payment due date, I may owe additional interest. If I have not paid my late fees, I will also owe additional amounts for those late fees. In such cases you will increase the amount of my last monthly payment to the amount necessary to repay my loan in full.

5. Payments: Payments will be applied first to fees, other fees and charges, accrued interest, and the remainder to principal.

6. Other Charges: If any part of a monthly payment remains unpaid for a period of more than 15 days after the payment due date, I will pay a late fee not exceeding $5.00 or 5% of the overdue payment amount, whichever is less. To the extent permitted by law, I agree to pay you all amounts you incur in enforcing the terms of this Credit Agreement, including reasonable collection agency and attorney's fees and court costs and other collection costs.

F. LIEN OR DEBTORSHIP FEE: If you change your mind, I will pay you a Loan Origination Fee at the time my loan is disbursed. The dollar amount of any Loan Origination Fee will be determined by multiplying the Principal Sum times the Loan Origination Fee Percentage shown on the first page of this Credit Agreement. The percentage would be paid in cash on the loan amount advanced rather than on the entire Principal Sum (Loan Origination Fee plus the loan amount advanced). For example, a.

G. RIGHT TO PREPAY: I have the right to prepay all or any part of my loan at any time without penalty.

H. FORBEARANCE: If I am unable to repay my loan in accordance with the terms established under this Credit Agreement because of a hardship such as financial or medical difficulty, I may request that you modify the terms of my loan. I understand that such modification would be at your option, and, to the extent not prohibited by applicable law, you may charge me a fee equal to two percent (2%) of the outstanding principal balance if you agree to modify the terms of this Credit Agreement. I understand that I will remain responsible for all interest accruing during any period of forbearance and that you will add any 2% fee described in the previous sentence and all interest that I do not pay during any forbearance periods to the principal balance, as described in Paragraph U.3.

I. WHOLE LOAN DUE: To the extent permitted by applicable law, I will be in default and you have the right to give me notice that the whole outstanding principal balance, accrued interest, and all other amounts payable to you under the terms of this Credit Agreement, are due and payable at once (subject to any applicable law which may give me a right to cure any default). If (1) I fail to make any monthly payment when due, (2) I die, (3) I breach any of my other promises in this Credit Agreement, (4) any bankruptcy proceeding is begun by or against me, or (5) I assign any of my assets for the benefit of my creditors, or (6) I make any false written statement in applying for this loan or any other loan or at any time during the Deferral or Repayment Periods. If default, I will be required to pay interest on this loan accruing after default. The interest rate after default will be subjected to adjustment in the same manner as before default. Upon default, you may also capitalize any interest and fees (i.e., add accrued unpaid interest and fees to the principal balance), and increase the Margin used to compute the Variable Rate by two percentage points (2%).

J. NOTICES:
12. I understand and agree that this loan is an educational loan and certify that it will be used only for costs of attendance.

13. I authorize any school that I may attend to release to you, and any other persons designated by you, any requested information pertinent to this loan (e.g., enrollment status, prior loan history, and current address).

14. I authorize the Lender, any subsequent holder of this Credit Agreement, and their agents to: (1) advise the School of the status of my application and my loan, (2) respond to inquiries from prior or subsequent lenders or holders with respect to my Credit Agreement and related documents, (3) release information and make inquiries to the persons I have given you as references, for the purposes of learning my current address and telephone number, (4) check my credit and employment history and to answer questions about my credit experience with me, and (5) disclose to TEER, the Borrower, and/or the Cosigner either in connection with this transaction or any future transaction all information (including status information and non-public personal information) of the Borrower and/or the Cosigner provided in connection with this Credit Agreement. If in the future I apply for a loan that is guaranteed by TEER and funded by another lender, I also authorize the sharing of application information for this loan (other than information in a consumer report) with the other lender and TEER and the reuse of such information by such new lender and TEER in my new application.

15. Waiver by Lender: You waive (give up) any right to claim a security interest in any property to secure this Credit Agreement. This does not affect any right to offset as a matter of law.

16. If I sign my signature(s) on the first page of this Credit Agreement back to you and keep the copy I signed, I understand that under federal law the tax you receive will be an original of the first page of this Credit Agreement. You and I agree that all copies of this Credit Agreement (including the facsimile you receive and the copy I retain), taken together, shall constitute a single original agreement.

17. If any Borrower or Cosigner elects to sign electronically an electronic record of this Credit Agreement, then the following will apply as between Lender and such person: (a) Lender will keep a non-modifiable electronic record of this document and provide a copy of this record to the Borrower and Cosigner in a format that the Borrower and Cosigner can view and print; (b) if you receive a copy of this document by mail or a notice from the Lender that I mailed a copy of this document, and (c) the Lender’s electronic record of the document is true and complete, and I understand that the Lender’s signature on this document and any other signature from that record shall be true and complete for all purposes, including any lawsuit to collect amounts subject to the limits in this Credit Agreement.

The Depositor in turn will sell the Transferred Loans to a Purchaser Trust. The Program Lender hereby transfers and delivers to the Depositor each USFB Astrate Note evidencing such Transferred Loan and all Origination Records relating thereto, together with any additional information relating to the Transferred Loans heretofore provided by TERI (as origination agent) to the Servicer or FMC in connection with the subject Securitization Transaction. The Depositor hereby purchases said USFB Astrate Notes on said terms and conditions.

The amount paid pursuant to this Supplement is the Minimum Purchase Price, as that term is defined in Section 2.04 of the Agreement.

Article 3: Representations and Warranties.

Indemnification under this Section shall survive the termination of this Sale Agreement and shall include reasonable fees and expenses of counsel and expenses of litigation. If the Seller shall have made any indemnity payments pursuant to this Section and the Person to or for the benefit of whom such payments are made thereafter shall collect any of such amounts from others, such Person shall promptly repay such amounts to the Seller, without interest.

ARTICLE VII
MERGER OR CONSOLIDATION OF, OR ASSUMPTION

24
OF THE OBLIGATIONS OF, SELLER

Any Person (a) into which the Seller may be merged or consolidated, (b) which may result from any merger or consolidation to which the Seller shall be a party or (c) which may succeed to the properties and assets of the Seller substantially as a whole, shall be the successor to the Seller without the execution or filing of any document or any further act by any of the parties to this Sale Agreement; provided, however, that the Seller hereby covenants that it will not consummate any of the foregoing transactions except upon satisfaction of the following: (i) the surviving Person, if other than the Seller, executes an agreement of assumption to perform every obligation of the Seller under this Sale Agreement, (ii) immediately after giving effect to such transaction, no representation or warranty made pursuant to this Sale Agreement shall have been breached, (iii) the surviving Person, if other than the Seller, shall have delivered an Officers’ Certificate and an opinion of counsel each stating that such consolidation, merger or succession and such agreement of assumption comply with this Section and that all conditions precedent, if any, provided for in this Sale Agreement relating to such transaction have been complied with, and that the Rating Agency Condition shall have been satisfied with respect to such transaction and, so long as any of the Notes are outstanding or any amounts are owed to the Note Insurer, the consent of the Note Insurer, (iv) if the Seller is not the surviving entity, such transaction will not result in a material adverse federal or state tax consequence to the Purchaser or the Noteholders, and (v) if the Seller is not the surviving entity, the Seller shall have delivered an opinion of counsel either (A) stating that, in the opinion of such counsel, all financing statements and continuation statements and amendments thereto have been executed and filed that are necessary fully to preserve and protect the interest of the Purchaser in the Transferred Student Loans and reciting the details of such filings, or (B) stating that, in the opinion of such counsel, no such action shall be necessary to preserve and protect such interests.

LIMITATION ON LIABILITY OF SELLER AND OTHERS

The Seller and any director or officer or employee or agent thereof may rely in good faith on the advice of counsel or on any document of any kind, prima facie properly executed and submitted by any Person respecting any matters arising hereunder (provided that such reliance shall not limit in any way the Seller’s obligations under this Sale Agreement). The Seller shall not be under any obligation to appear in, prosecute or defend any legal action that shall not be incidental to its obligations under this Sale Agreement or the Student Loan Purchase Agreements, and that in its opinion may involve it in any expense or liability.

ARTICLE IX
SURVIVAL OF COVENANTS

All covenants, agreements, representations and warranties made herein shall survive the consummation of the purchase of the Transferred Student Loans; provided, however, that to the extent any of the same relate to a corresponding covenant, agreement, representation or warranty contained in a Student Loan Purchase Agreement, the same shall survive to the extent that such corresponding covenant, agreement, representation or warranty survives the applicable Student Loan Purchase Agreement. All covenants, agreements, representations and warranties made or furnished pursuant hereto by or for the benefit of the Seller (including without limitation, under Article VI) shall bind and inure to the benefit of any successors or assigns of the Purchaser, including the Indenture Trustee. ORDER SUSTAINING DEFENDANTS’ EVIDENTIARY OBJECTION

FINDINGS OF FACT AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

This matter came before the Court for an evidentiary hearing on September 16, 2013. The Plaintiff was represented by Richard P. Green of Javitch, Block and Rathbone. The Defendants were present and represented by Ms. Rebecca Babarsky of AppalReD Legal Aid.

The only evidence admitted into the record at that time was the oral testimony of the Defendants. Plaintiff presented no witnesses, but attempted to enter certain documents into evidence under KRE 803 (6) and KRE 901 (11). Defendants’ objected to the admission of said documents on multiple grounds. Oral argument was heard on Defendants’ objections, and Plaintiff was given the opportunity to respond. Both parties were advised to submit briefs regarding the evidentiary objections within ten (10) days.
I. FINDINGS OF FACT

1. On or about August 17, 2007 Defendants [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] signed a “Loan Request/Credit Agreement” with Union Federal Savings Bank. This finding is supported by the testimony of [REDACTED] and [REDACTED].

2. The Court finds that Plaintiff is not the holder of a promissory note executed by the Defendants, as Plaintiff has failed to produce a negotiable promissory note.

3. Additionally, there has been no evidence presented to demonstrate that Union Federal Savings Bank has assigned their agreement with the Defendants to the Plaintiff.

II. CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

1. Plaintiff provided no witnesses at trial. Instead, Plaintiff attempted to offer a stack of documents into evidence under KRE 803 and KRE 902 (11). Mere attachment of a notarized document to records is not sufficient to allow the records to be introduced. Matthews v. Com., 163 S.W.3d 11, 24 (Ky. 2005). In relevant part, KRE 902 (11) provides that business records may be self authenticating in certain cases, “[u]nless the sources of information or other circumstances indicate a lack of trustworthiness . . .” KRE 902(11)(a). Here, the sources of information, as well as other circumstances, indicate a lack of trustworthiness: (1) Plaintiff’s counsel’s assertions at trial, particularly regarding the redaction of documentation in the proposed Exhibit B, conflicted with the affidavit’s statement that “all documents attached are true and correct originals [sic] records or true and correct copies of the original record, being reproduced from the original records;” and (2) The FTC has recently filed a complaint against the employer of the affiant in federal court for, among other things, making made “Unsubstantiated Representations about Owing a Debt” and other “False and Misleading Representations.” The Court will therefore sustain Defendants’ first objection to entry of Plaintiff’s proposed Exhibits A and B in accordance with KRE 902(11)(a).

2. Plaintiff has plead that it is the “holder of a note,” yet it has failed to produce a note endorsed either to Plaintiff or in blank. On July 26, 2012, Plaintiffs were advised by the Court that they could amend their pleading to include a contract claim. Plaintiff chose not to do so.

3. Even if Plaintiff had amended its pleading to include a contract claim, Plaintiff has still failed to provide the Court with any evidence that would serve to substantiate that Plaintiff was an assignee of the contract between Union Federal Savings Bank and the Defendants. As such, Plaintiff has failed to show that it is the real party in interest as required by CR 17.01.

4. In Bruner v. Discover Bank c/o DFS Services, LLC, 360 S.W.3d 774, 778 (Ky. App. 2012), the Court of Appeals set out three showings that a plaintiff must provide in order to succeed on a claim that it is has ownership of a debt when the plaintiff is not the original creditor. These showings are:

   (1) A bill of sale listing the name and account number of the defendant;

   (2) A document specifically detailing how the creditor/plaintiff reached the principal and interest amounts that it is suing for; and

   (3) Documentary evidence that the defendant is in fact the person responsible for the debt.

Defendants admitted that they signed an agreement with Union Federal Savings Bank, so Plaintiff is not required to provide (3) in this case. However, Plaintiff has failed to provide either (1) or (2).
5. As such, the Court finds that neither Defendant is indebted to either Student Loan Trust 2007-3 or FMD Legal.

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED AND ADJUDGED

1. That Defendants’ objection to entry into evidence of Plaintiff’s proposed Exhibits A and B is SUSTAINED;

2. That Judgment be entered in favor of Defendants [REDACTED] and [REDACTED];

3. That Defendants’ counsel shall be awarded reasonable attorney’s fees.

This is a final and appealable order.

So Ordered this 30th day of Sept., 2013

Signature of Borrower ___________________________ Date ________________

BY SIGNING THIS CREDIT AGREEMENT BELOW, I CERTIFY THAT I INTEND TO (i) APPLY FOR JOINT CREDIT AND (ii) BE JOINTLY LIABLE WITH THE BORROWER FOR THIS LOAN.

Signature of Cosigner ___________________________ Date ________________
In this Credit Agreement, the words "you", "your", "yours", and "mine" mean each and every Borrower and Co-signer, individually and collectively, who signed this Credit Agreement. The words "you", "your", "yours", and "Lender" mean the Lender named at the top of the first page of this Credit Agreement. The "service" means the Lender or any entity it designates to service my loan.

A. PROMISE TO PAY: I promise to pay to your order, upon the terms and conditions of this Credit Agreement, the principal sum of the Loan Amount Requested shown on the first page of this Credit Agreement, to the extent it is advanced to me or paid on my behalf, and any Late Origination Fee addition to my loan (see Paragraph F) ("Principal Sum"). Interest on such Principal Sum is interest on any unpaid interest added to the Principal Sum, and other charges set forth herein.

B. LOAN; DISCLOSURE STATEMENT:

1. By signing this Credit Agreement, and submitting it to you, I am requesting that you make this loan to me in an amount equal to the Loan Amount Requested plus any Loan Origination Fee described in Paragraph F of this Credit Agreement. When you receive my signed Application, you are not agreeing to lend me money. You have the right not to make a loan or to lend an amount less than the Loan Amount Requested. I agree to accept an amount less than the Loan Amount Requested and to repay that portion of the Loan Amount Requested that you actually lend to me.

2. You may make a loan to me, you will mail the Disbursement Check (the "Disbursement Check") and a statement disclosing certain information about the loan in accordance with the federal Truth in Lending Act (the "Disclosure Statement"). You have the right to dispute my Disbursement Check through an agreement or, at your option, you may also make any Disbursement Checks payable to you and the Co-signer or to me and the School. In addition to other information, the Disclosure Statement will tell you the amount of my disbursement and the amount of the Loan Origination Fee. The Disclosure Statement is part of this Credit Agreement. Upon receipt of the Disclosure Statement, I will review the Disclosure Statement to notify you in writing if I have any question. My endorsement of the Disbursement Check or allowing the loan proceeds to be used by or on behalf of the Student without objection will acknowledge receipt of the Disclosure Statement and my agreement to be legally bound by this Credit Agreement. I agree to return the Disbursement Check if I have not signed the Agreement.

3. If I am not satisfied with the terms of my loan as disclosed in the Disclosure Statement, I may cancel my loan. To cancel my loan, I will give you written cancellation notice, together with my unused Disbursement Check or, if I have already endorsed and delivered the Disbursement Check to the School, a good check payable to you, in the full amount of the Disbursement Check. In any event, I cannot cancel my loan more than ten (10) days after I receive the Disclosure Statement. If you notice of cancellation but do not comply with the requirements of this Paragraph B.3, this Credit Agreement will not be cancelled and I will be in default of this Credit Agreement. (See Paragraph I.)

C. DEFINITIONS:

1. "Disbursement Date" means the date shown on any Disbursement Check you prepare for me (not the date I endorse or negotiate my check).

2. The "Deferral Period" will begin on the Disbursement Date and end on the Deferral End Date.

3. "Deferral End Date" means the date specified below for the applicable loan program (the applicable loan program is stated on the first page of this Credit Agreement).

(a) Education Undergraduate Alternative Loan Program:
If I have elected the "Immediate Repayment" option (the applicable repayment option is stated on the first page of this Credit Agreement), there is no Deferral Period, and my first payment will be 30-60 days after the disbursement of my loan. If I have elected the "Interest Only" repayment option (the applicable repayment option is stated on the first page of this Credit Agreement), then interest payments will begin 30-60 days after the disbursement of my loan, the "Deferral End Date" will be the date the Student graduates or ceases to be enrolled at least half-time in the School (or another school participating in this Loan Program), and principal and interest payments will begin 30-60 days after that date. In any event, if I have elected the "Interest Only" repayment option, the Deferral End Date will be no more than five years after the Disbursement Date. If I have elected the "Full Deferral" repayment option (the applicable repayment option is stated on the first page of this Credit Agreement), then the "Deferral End Date" will be 180 days after the Student graduates or ceases to be enrolled at least half-time in the School (or another school participating in this Loan Program), and principal and interest payments will begin 30-60 days after that date. In any event, if I have elected the "Full Deferral" repayment option, the Deferral End Date will be no more than 1/2 years after the Disbursement Date.

(b) Education Graduate Professional Education Loan Program: 180 days, regardless of the Student's graduating or ceasing to be enrolled at least half-time in the School (or another school participating in this Loan Program), and principal and interest payments will begin 30-60 days after that date. In any event, if I have elected the "Full Deferral" repayment option, the Deferral End Date will be no more than 1/2 years after the Disbursement Date. The Deferral Period will end 180 days after the date the residency of internship ends, but no more than 6 years after the Disbursement Date.

4. The "Repayment Period" begins the day after the Deferral Period ends (or, if there is no Deferral Period, the day after the Disbursement Date for my loan).

The Repayment Period is 20 years, unless monthly payments equal to the minimum monthly payment amount (see Paragraph E.2) will repay all amounts owed in less than 20 years, in which case the Repayment Period will be the number of months necessary to pay in full the amount I owe at this minimum payment.

D. INTEREST:

1. Accrual — Beginning on the Disbursement Date. Interest on the outstanding balance of this Credit Agreement (including any unpaid interest later added to principal) according to Paragraph D.3 will accrue each day (including holidays and other days you are closed) at the Variable Rate (Paragraph D.2) divided by the number of days in that calendar year.

2. Variable Rate — The "Variable Rate" is equal to the Current Index plus a Margin. The Margins for both the Deferral Period and the Repayment Period are shown on the first page of this Credit Agreement. In no event will the Variable Rate exceed the maximum interest rate allowed by the laws of the State of Ohio. The Variable Rate will change quarterly on the first day of each January, April, July and October (the "Change Date") or if the Current Index changes. The "Current Index" for any calendar quarter beginning on a Change Date (or for any shorter period beginning on the Disbursement Date and ending on the last day of a calendar quarter) is based on the one month London Interbank Offered Rate ("LIBOR") as published in the "Money Rates" section of The Wall Street Journal. Each calendar quarter, the index will equal the average of the LIBOR rates published on the first business day of each of the three (3) calendar months immediately preceding such calendar quarter, rounded to the nearest one-hundredth percent (0.01%). If The Wall Street Journal is not published or if the LIBOR rate is not published on any one or more of the first business days of each of the three calendar months immediately preceding the calendar quarter, then the Current Index will be determined by using the immediately preceding Current Index if more than one LIBOR rate is published on the first business day of any of the three preceding calendar months, then the highest rate published will be used to calculate the Current Index. If the LIBOR rate is no longer available, you will choose a comparable index.

3. Capitalization — If I have elected the "Full Deferral" repayment option (the applicable repayment option is stated on the first page of this Credit Agreement), I am not obligated to make any payments until the loan enters the Repayment Period and you will add unpaid accrued interest to the principal loan balance as of the last day of each calendar quarter (the last day of December, March, June and September) during the Deferral Period and as of the last day of my Deferral Period. Interest that is added to principal is called "Capitalized" interest. Capitalized interest will be treated as principal. In addition, if I am in default (see Paragraph I) and the loan has been sold to TELI (see Paragraph L.12), TELI may capitalize accrued and unpaid interest as of the date it purchases my loan. I understand that you will also add all accrued and unpaid interest to the principal balance of my loan at the end of any forbearance period (see Paragraph H).

E. TERMS OF REPAYMENT:

1. Deferral Period — If I have elected either the "Interest Only" repayment option or the "Full Deferral" repayment option (the applicable repayment option is stated on the first page of this Credit Agreement), you will send statements during the Deferral Period (showing the total outstanding principal balance and the interest that has accrued on my loan). You reserve the right to send statements or notices to either the Borrower or the Co-signer. Statements will be sent to the address shown on your records. If I have elected the "Interest Only" repayment option, I agree to make payments each month during the Deferral Period equal to the accrued interest on the outstanding balance of this Credit Agreement. If I have elected the "Full Deferral" repayment option I may, but am not required to make payments during the Deferral Period. You will add any interest that I do not pay during the Deferral Period to the principal balance, as described in Paragraph D.3.

2. Repayment Period — The amount of my monthly payment ("Monthly Payment Amount") will be established based on the rules in this Credit Agreement when my Repayment Period begins. During the Repayment Period, you will send monthly statements that show the Monthly Payment Amount and the payment due dates, and I will pay the Monthly Payment Amount shown on my monthly statement, which amount will in no event be less than $25 or the unpaid balance, whichever is less. I understand that the Monthly Payment Amount is due each month. I may pay more than my Monthly Payment Amount at any time without penalty or charge. If my loan is in paid-off status, I may, but will not be required to make monthly payments. You reserve the right to send monthly statements to the Borrower and/or the Co-signer. Even if I do not receive monthly statements, I will make consecutive monthly payments in amounts at least equal to the Monthly Payment Amount by the applicable payment due dates until I have paid all of the principal and interest and any other charges I may owe under this Credit Agreement.

3. Repayment Terms — My Monthly Payment Amount will be calculated as of the day the Repayment Period begins ("Repayment Date"). It will be recalculated (a) once each year prior to the anniversary of the Repayment Date, (b) if the Variable Rate changes between the anniversary of the Repayment Date and the anniversary of the next previous repayment date; provided, however, that if the Student begins a medical residency or internship during the Deferral Period, then the Deferral Period will end 180 days after the date the residency or internship ends, but no more than 6 years after the Disbursement Date.

4. The "Repayment Period" begins the day after the Deferral Period ends (or, if there is no Deferral Period, the day after the Disbursement Date for my loan).
amount necessary to pay in full, over the number of months remaining in the Repayment Period, the amount I owe in equal monthly installments of principal and interest at the Variable Rate in effect at the time of the calculation. I understand that this may result in a reduction or increase in my monthly payment as calculated as such Repayment Period. I understand that during the Repayment Period (and, if I have elected the "Interest Only" repayment option, during the period of interest payments) the servicer may change the monthly payment due date of future payments to a later date for the convenience of the servicer in processing payments or in order to coordinate the due date of all of my loans processed by the servicer.
4. Amount Owning at the End of the Repayment Period — Since interest accrues daily upon the unpaid principal balance of my loan, if I make payments after my payment date due dates, I may owe additional principal, interest, and/or late fees at the end of the Repayment Period. If I have not paid my late fees, I will also owe additional amounts for those late fees. In such cases you will increase the amount of my last monthly payment to the amount necessary to repay my loan in full in a single payment.
5. Payments — Payments will be applied first to late fees and other fees and charges, then accrued interest, and the remainder to principal. I have multiple loans processed by the servicer, and I submit a single payment that is insufficient to pay all of the amounts I owe, such payment will be divided between or among the loans in accordance with applicable law and the servicer’s customary procedures.
6. Other Charges — If any part of a monthly payment remains unpaid for a period of more than 15 days after the payment due date, I will pay a late fee not exceeding $5.00 or 5% of the overdue payment amount, whichever is less. I will pay only one late fee for any (monthly) payment, regardless of the number of days it is late.
To the extent permitted by law, I agree to pay you all amounts you incur in enforcing the terms of this Credit Agreement, including reasonable collection agency and attorney’s fees and court costs or other collection costs.
F. LOAN ORIGINATION FEE: You may charge me an Origination Fee. If you charge me, at the time you issue any disbursement to me, or on my behalf, you may add the Origination Fee to my loan amount. The dollar amount of any Loan Origination Fee will be determined by multiplying the Principal Sum times the Loan Origination Fee Percentage, determined on the first day of this Credit Agreement. The percentage would be higher if I compulse only on the amount advanced rather than on the entire Principal Sum (Loan Origination Fee plus the loan amount advanced). For example, a nominal Loan Origination Fee of 6.5% on the entire Principal Sum would equal 6.9516% of the loan amount advanced. The Loan Origination Fee I will pay, if any, will be shown on my Disclosure Statement and included with the Principal Sum. To the extent permitted by law, and unless I timely cancel this Credit Agreement (see Paragraph B.3), I will not be entitled to a refund of any Loan Origination Fee after my Disbursement Date has been negotiated.
G. RIGHT TO PREPAY: I have the right to prepay all or any part of my loan at any time without penalty or charge.
H. FORBEARANCE: If I am unable to repay my loan in accordance with the terms established under this Credit Agreement because of a hardship such as financial or medical difficulty, I may request that you modify these terms. I understand that such modification would be at your option. I understand that it will remain responsible for all interest accruing during any period of forbearance and that you will add any interest that accrues during any forbearance period to the principal balance, as described in Paragraph D.1.
I. WHOLE LOAN DUE: To the extent permitted by applicable law, I will be in default if:
(1) I fail to make any monthly payment to you when due, (2) I die, (3) I break any of my other promises in this Credit Agreement, (4) any bankruptcy proceeding is begun by or against me or any of my assets for my benefit of my creditors, or (5) I make any late payment or default in any other aspect of this agreement. The servicer has the option to continue this loan at your discretion. The interest rate after default will be subject to adjustment in the same manner as before default. To the extent permitted by law, upon default, you will have the right to give me notice that the whole outstanding principal balance, accrued interest, and all other amounts payable to you under the terms of this Credit Agreement are due and payable at once. Upon default, you may also capitalize any interest and fees (i.e., add accrued and unpaid interest and fees to the principal balance), and increase the Margin used to compute the Variable Rate by two percentage points (2%).
J. NOTICES: 1. I will send written notice to you, any subsequent holder of this Credit Agreement, and the servicer within ten days after any change in name, address, or enrollment status (for example, if the Borrower withdraws from the School or transfers to another school participating in this loan program).
2. Any notice required to be given to you by me will be effective when mailed by first class mail to the latest address you have for me. Unless required by applicable law, you need not give a separate notice to the Cosigner, if any.
K. INFORMATION: 1. I must update any and all information related to this Credit Agreement or my loan application whenever you ask me to do so.
2. I authorize you from time to time to request and receive from others credit related information about me and about my spouse if I live in a community property state.
3. CREDIT BUREAU REPORTING

You may report information about my account to credit bureaus. Late payments, missed payments, or other defaults in my account may be reflected in my credit report.

I understand that the reporting of information about my account to credit bureaus may adversely affect my credit rating and my ability to obtain other credit. You may also report the status of my loan and my payment history, including information about a late payment, missed payment or other defaults, to the School and others in accordance with applicable law.
L. ADDITIONAL AGREEMENTS: 1. I understand that you are located in OH and that this Credit Agreement will be entered into in the same state. CONSEQUENTLY, THE PROVISIONS OF THIS CREDIT AGREEMENT WILL BE GOVERNED BY FEDERAL LAW AND THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF OHIO, WITHOUT REGARD TO CONFLICT OF LAW RULES.
2. The proceeds of this loan will be used only for my educational expenses at the School. The Cosigner will not receive any of the loan proceeds.
3. My responsibility for paying the loan evidenced by this Credit Agreement is unaffected by the liability of any other person to me or by your failure to notify me that a required payment has not been made. Without losing any of your rights under this Credit Agreement you may accept (a) late payments, (b) partial payments or (c) payments marked "paid in full" or with other restrictions. You may delay, fail to exercise, or waive any of your rights on any occasion without losing your entitlement to exercise the right at any future time, or on any future occasion. You will not be obligated to make any demand upon me, send me any notice, present this Credit Agreement to me for payment or make protest of non-payment to me before suing to collect on this Credit Agreement. I am in default, and to the extent permitted by applicable law, I hereby waive any right I might otherwise have to require such actions. I WILL NOT SEND YOU PAYMENT'S MARKED "PAID IN FULL", "WITHOUT RECOUSE" OR WITH OTHER SIMILAR LANGUAGE UNLESS THOSE PAYMENTS ARE MARKED FOR SPECIAL HANDLING AND SENT TO THE ADDRESS IDENTIFIED FOR SUCH PAYMENTS ON MY DISCLOSURE STATEMENT, OR TO SUCH OTHER ADDRESS AS I MAY SPECIFY IN THE FUTURE.
4. I may not assign this Credit Agreement or any of its benefits or obligations. You may assign this Credit Agreement at any time.
5. The terms and conditions set forth in this Credit Agreement and the Disclosure Statement constitute the entire agreement between you and me.
6. If any provision of this Credit Agreement is held invalid or unenforceable, that provision shall be considered omitted from this Credit Agreement without affecting the validity or enforceability of the remainder of this Credit Agreement.
7. A provision of this Credit Agreement may only be modified if it is jointly agreed upon in writing by you and me. Any modification will not affect the validity or enforceability of the remainder of this Credit Agreement. If I fail my Credit Agreement, I have read and understand the prohibition regarding changes in Paragraph L.6.
8. To the extent permitted by applicable law, you have the right to apply money from any of my deposits (accruals) to you to pay all or a portion of any amount owed under this Credit Agreement. If I am in default at any time (including but not limited to a situation where I give an improper cancellation notice), you may exercise on my behalf any right that I may have to receive a full or partial refund of payments made to the School or the state in which I was attending school. You have the right to file a suit to enforce this Credit Agreement and not as set. To the extent the Borrower or the Cosigner may agree to any forbearance or other modification of the repayment schedule and that such agreement will be binding on the Cosigner. It shall not be necessary for you to resort to or exhaust your remedies against the Borrower before calling upon the Cosigner to make repayment.
9. All dollar amounts stated in this Credit Agreement are in United States dollars. I will make all payments in United States dollars with no deduction for currency exchange.
10. The student's failure to complete the education program paid for with this loan will not relieve any Borrower of any obligation under this Credit Agreement.
11. I acknowledge that the requested loan is subject to the limitations on dischargeability in bankruptcy contained in Section 521(a)(8) of the United States Bankruptcy Code. Specifically, I understand that you have purchased a guaranty of this loan, and that this loan is guaranteed by The Education Resources Institute, Inc. ("TERI"), a non-profit institution.
12. I authorize any school that I may attend to release to you, and any other persons designated by you, any requested information pertinent to this loan (e.g., enrollment status, prior loan history, and current address).
13. I authorize the lender, any subsequent holder of this Credit Agreement, and their agents to: (1) advise the School of the status of my application and my loan, (2) respond to inquiries from prior or subsequent lenders or holders with respect to my Credit Agreement and related documents, (3) release information and make inquiries to the persons I have given you as references, for the purpose of verifying my current whether or not such a report was obtained and, if so, the name and address of the agency that furnished the report. I also understand and agree that you may obtain a consumer credit report in connection with the review or collection of any loan made to me as a result of this application or for other legitimate purposes related to such loans.

No provision of any marital property agreement (pre-marital agreement), unilateral statement under Section 780.59 of the Wisconsin Statutes or court decree under Section 766.70 adversely affects your interests unless, prior to the time that the loan is approved, you are furnished with a copy of the marital property agreement, a statement or a decree or have actual knowledge of the adverse provision. If the loan for which I am applying is granted, I will notify you if I have a spouse who needs to receive notification that credit has been extended to me.

M. BORROWER'S CERTIFICATION: I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States of America that the following is true and correct I certify that all information I provided to you in connection with this loan, including without limitation the information contained in this Credit Agreement, is true, complete and correct to the best of my knowledge and belief and is made in good faith. NOTICE TO COSIGNER (Traducción en Ingles Se Requiere Por La Ley):
You are being asked to guarantee this debt. Think carefully before you do. If the borrower doesn't pay the debt, you will have to. Be sure you can afford to pay if you have to, and that you want to accept this responsibility.

You may have to pay up to the full amount of the debt if the borrower does not pay. You may also have to pay late fees or collection costs, which increase this amount.

The creditor can collect this debt from you without first trying to collect from the borrower. The holder of the loan can use the same collection methods against you that can be used against the borrower, such as suing you, garnishing your wages, etc. If this debt is ever in default, that fact may become part of your credit record.

This notice is not the contract that makes you liable for the debt.

AVISO PARA EL FIADOR (Spanish Translation Required by Law):
Se le está pidiendo que garantice esta deuda. Piénselo con cuidado antes de ponerse de acuerdo. Si la persona que ha pedido este préstamo no paga la deuda, usted tendrá que pagarla. Esté seguro de que usted podrá pagar si sea obligado a pagarla y de que usted d票a aceptar la responsabilidad.

Si la persona que ha pedido el préstamo no paga la deuda, es posible que usted tenga que pagar la suma total de la deuda, mas los cargos por tardarse en el pago o el costo de cobranza, lo cual aumenta el total de esta suma.

El acreedor (financiero) puede cobrarle a usted sin, primeramente, tratar de cobrarle al deudor. Los mismos métodos de cobranza que pueden usarse contra el deudor, podrán usarse contra usted, tales como presentar una demanda en corte, quitar parte de su sueldo, etc. Si alguna vez no se cumpla con la obligación de pagar esta deuda, se puede incluir esa información en la historia de crédito de usted.

Este aviso no es el contrato mismo en que se le echa a usted la responsabilidad de la deuda.

VARIABLE RATE: The Annual Percentage Rate, which is based on an index plus a margin, may increase during the term of the loan if the index rate increases. The index is (check one):
- Prime Rate Index Adjusted Monthly - The highest U.S. bank prime rate published in the "Money Rates" section of The Wall Street Journal on the last business day of each calendar month.
- Prime Rate Index Adjusted Quarterly - The highest U.S. bank prime rate published in the "Money Rates" section of The Wall Street Journal on the last business day of each calendar quarter.
- LIBOR Index Adjusted Quarterly - The average of the one-month London Interbank Offered Rates published in the "Money Rates" section of The Wall Street Journal on the first business day of each of the three (3) calendar months immediately preceding the first day of each calendar quarter.

Any increase in the index and the Annual Percentage Rate which occurs while principal payments are deferred will increase the amount of all future payments. Any increase in the index and the Annual Percentage Rate which occurs after you have begun to make principal and interest payments on your loan will increase the amount of your future principal and interest payments beginning with your next annual payment adjustment date. For example, assume you obtain a loan in your junior year, in the amount of $10,000, at an interest rate of 11%, and you defer principal and interest payments until after your graduation, and the repayment term of the loan is 20 years. If the interest rate increased to 12% on January 1st of your senior year, the interest which accrues while principal and interest payments are deferred will increase by $91.01, and your monthly principal and interest payments would increase by $9.37.

SECURITY: You have given a security interest in all refunds or amounts owed to you at any time by the student's educational institution. Collateral securing other loans with the Lender may also secure this Loan. LATE CHARGES: If a payment is more than 15 days late, you may be charged $5.00 or 5% of the payment, whichever is less. If you default, Lender (or any subsequent holder or any subsequent holder of your Loan Note) may increase the margin used to compute the Annual Percentage Rate by two percentage points (2%). PREPAYMENTS: If you pay off early, you will not have to pay a penalty.

See your contract documents for any additional information about non-payment, default, any required repayment in full before the scheduled date, any security interest and prepayment refunds and penalties.

Estimated: All numerical disclosures except the late payment disclosure are estimates.

2006-2 POOL SUPPLEMENT
JPMORGAN CHASE BANK, N.A.

This Pool Supplement (the "Supplement") is entered into pursuant to and forms a part of that certain Note Purchase Agreement (the "Agreement") dated as of September 30, 2003 as amended, by and between The First Marblehead Corporation ("FMC") and JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. (the "Program Lender"). This Supplement is dated as of June 8, 2006. Capitalized terms used in this Supplement without definitions have the meanings set forth in the Agreement.

Article 1: Purchase and Sale.

In consideration of the Minimum Purchase Price, the Program Lender hereby transfers, sells, sets over and assigns to The National Collegiate Funding LLC (the "Depositor"), upon the terms and conditions set forth in the Agreement (which are incorporated herein by reference with the same force and effect as if set forth in full herein), each Chase ExtraSM Conforming Loan described in the attached Schedule 1 (the "Transferred Chase Extra Loans") along with all of the Program Lender's rights under the Guaranty Agreement, and any of the Program Lender's rights in or to the certain account pledged by TERI as collateral for its obligations under the Guaranty Agreement (the "Pledged Account"), in each case specifically relating to the Transferred Chase Extra Loans. The Depositor in turn will sell the Transferred Chase Extra Loans to The National Collegiate Student Loan Trust 2006-2 (the "Trust"). The Program Lender hereby transfers and delivers to the Depositor each Chase Extra Note evidencing such Chase Extra Conforming Loan and all Origination Records relating thereto, in accordance with the terms of the Agreement. The Depositor hereby purchases said Chase Extra Notes on said terms and conditions.

Article 2: Price.

The amount paid pursuant to this Supplement is the Minimum Purchase Price, as that term is defined in Section 2.04 of the Agreement.

Article 3: Representations and Warranties.

3.01. By Program Lender.

The Program Lender repeats the representations and warranties contained in Section 5.02 of the Agreement for the benefit of each of the Depositor and the Trust and confirms the same are true and correct as of the date hereof with respect to the Agreement and to this Supplement.

3.02. By Depositor.

The Depositor hereby represents and warrants to the Program Lender that at the date of execution and delivery of this Supplement by the Depositor:

(a) The Depositor is duly organized and validly existing as a limited liability company under the laws of the State of Delaware with due power and authority to own its properties and to conduct its business as such properties are currently owned and such business is presently conducted, and had at all relevant times, and has, the power, authority and legal right to acquire and own the Transferred Chase Extra Loans.

(b) The Depositor is duly qualified to do business and has obtained all necessary licenses and approvals, in all jurisdictions in which the ownership or lease of property or the conduct of its business shall require such qualifications.

(c) The Depositor has the power and authority to execute and deliver this Supplement and to carry out its respective terms; the Depositor has the power and authority to purchase the Transferred Chase Extra Loans and rights relating thereto as provided herein from the Program Lender and the Depositor has duly authorized such purchase from the Program Lender by all necessary action; and the execution, delivery and performance of this Supplement has been duly authorized by the Depositor by all necessary action on the part of the Depositor.

(d) This Supplement, together with the Agreement of which this Supplement forms a part, constitutes a legal, valid and binding obligation of the Depositor, enforceable in accordance with its terms.

(e) The consummation of the transactions contemplated by the Agreement and this Supplement and the fulfillment of the terms hereof do not conflict with, result in any breach of any of the terms and provisions of, or constitute (with or without notice or lapse of time) a default under, the governing instruments of the Depositor or any indenture, agreement or other instrument to which the Depositor is a party or by which it is bound; or result in the creation or imposition of any lien upon any of its properties pursuant to the terms of any such indenture, agreement or other instrument; or violate any law or any order, rule or regulation applicable to the Depositor of any court or of any federal or state regulatory body, administrative agency or other governmental instrumentality having jurisdiction over the Depositor or its properties.

(f) There are no proceedings or investigations pending, or threatened, before any court, regulatory body, administrative agency or other governmental instrumentality having jurisdiction over the Depositor or its properties: (1) asserting the invalidity of the Agreement or this Supplement, (2) seeking to prevent the consummation of any of the transactions contemplated by the Agreement or this Supplement, or (3) seeking any determination or ruling that is likely to materially or adversely affect the performance by the Depositor of its obligations under, or the validity or enforceability of the Agreement or this Supplement.

Article 4: Cross Receipt.

The Program Lender hereby acknowledges receipt of the Minimum Purchase Price. The Depositor hereby acknowledges receipt of the Transferred Chase Extra Loans included in the Pool.

Article 5: Assignment of Origination, Guaranty and Servicing Rights.

The Program Lender hereby assigns and sets over to the Depositor any claims it may now or hereafter have under the Guaranty Agreement the Origination Agreement, and the Servicing Agreement to the extent the same relate to the Transferred Chase Extra Loans described in Schedule 2, other than any right to obtain servicing after the date hereof. It is the intent of this provision to vest in the Depositor any claim of the Program Lender relating to defects in origination, guaranty, or servicing of the loans purchased hereunder in order to permit the Depositor to assert such claims directly and obviate any need to make the same claims against the Program Lender under this Supplement. The Program Lender also hereby assigns and sets over to the Depositor any claims it may now have or hereafter have to the Pledged Account pledged under the Guaranty Agreement and under the Deposit and Security Agreement that relate to the Transferred Chase Extra Loans, and the Program Lender hereby releases any security interest it may have in such Pledged Account relating to the Transferred Chase Extra Loans. The Program Lender hereby authorizes the Depositor, its successors and assigns, to file in any public filing office where a Uniform Commercial Code Filing with respect to collateral pledged by TERI is of record, any partial release or assignment that it deems necessary or appropriate to reflect in the public records the conveyance and assignment effected hereby.

VARIABLE RATE: The Annual Percentage Rate which is based on an Index plus a margin, may increase during the term of the loan if the Index rate increases. The Index is (check only):

- Prime Rate Index Adjusted Monthly - The highest U.S. bank prime rate published in the "Money Rates" section of The Wall Street Journal (Eastern Edition) on the last business day of each calendar month.
- Prime Rate Index Adjusted Quarterly - The highest U.S. bank prime rate published in the "Money Rates" section of The Wall Street Journal (Eastern Edition) on the last business day of each calendar quarter.
- LIBOR Index Adjusted Quarterly - The average of the one-month London Interbank Offered Rates published in the "Money Rates" section of The Wall Street Journal (Eastern Edition) on the first business day of each of the three (3) calendar months immediately preceding the first day of each calendar quarter.

Any increase in the Index and the Annual Percentage Rate which occurs while principal payments are deferred will increase the amount of any current and all future payments. Any increase in the Index and the Annual Percentage Rate which occurs after you have begun to make principal and interest payments on your loan will increase the amount of your future principal and interest payments beginning with your next annual payment adjustment date. For example, assume you obtain a loan in your junior year, in the amount of $10,000, at an interest rate of 11%, and you defer principal and interest payments until after your graduation, and the repayment terms of the loan is 20 years. If the interest rate increased to 12% on January 1st of your senior year, the interest which accrues while principal and interest payments are deferred will increase by $9,101, and your monthly principal and interest payments would increase by $9.37.

LATE CHARGES: If a payment is more than 15 days late, you may be charged $5.00 or 5% of the payment, whichever is less. If you default, Lender (or any subsequent holder of your Loan Note) may increase the margin used to compute the Annual Percentage Rate by two percentage points (2%).

PREPAYMENT: If you pay off early, you will not have to pay a penalty.

Estimates: All numerical disclosures except the late payment disclosure are estimates.

in this Credit Agreement, the words "I", "me", "my", and "mine" mean the person who signed this Credit Agreement as Borrower. The words "you"; "your"; "yours", and "Lender" mean the Lender named at the top of the first page of this Credit Agreement, its successors and assigns, and any other holder of this Credit Agreement. "School" means the school named at the top of the first page of this Credit Agreement. The "service" means the Lender or any entity it designates to service my loan.

A. PROMISE TO PAY: I promise to pay to your order, upon the terms and conditions of this Credit Agreement, the principal sum of the Loan Amount Requested shown on the first page of this Credit Agreement, to the extent it is advanced to me as paid on my behalf, and any Loan Origination Fee added to my loan (see Paragraph B) (together the "Principal Sum"). Interest on such Principal Sum, interest on any unpaid interest added to the Principal Sum, and other charges set forth herein.

B. LOAN DISCLOSURE STATEMENT

1. By signing this Credit Agreement, and submitting it to you, I am requesting that you make this loan to me in an amount equal to the Loan Amount Requested plus any Loan Origination Fee described in Paragraph B of this Credit Agreement. When you receive my signed Application, you are not agreeing to lend me money. You have the right not to make a loan or to lend an amount less than the Loan Amount Requested. I agree to accept an amount less than the Loan Amount Requested and to repay that portion of the Loan Amount Requested that you actually lend to me along with interest and all other amounts I owe (see Paragraph A).

2. If you agree to make a loan to me, you will mail me a disclosure statement (the "Disclosure Statement") and a statement disclosing certain information about the loan in accordance with the federal Truth-in-Lending Act (the "Disclosure Statement"). You have the right to receive a copy of the Disclosure Statement by certified mail and you are not required to make the loan unless you receive a copy of the Disclosure Statement. Your decision to make a loan will not be bound by this Credit Agreement.

3. If I am not satisfied with the terms of my loan as disclosed in the Disclosure Statement, I may cancel the loan. To cancel the loan, you will give me a written cancellation notice, together with my unsigned Disclosure Statement or, if I have already endorsed and delivered the Disclosure Statement to the School, a good check payable to you, in the full amount of the Disclosure Statement. In any event, I cannot cancel more than ten (10) days after I receive the Disclosure Statement. If I give no notice of cancellation but do not comply with the requirements of this paragraph, this Credit Agreement will not be canceled and I will be in default of this Credit Agreement. (See Paragraph C.)

C. DEFINITIONS:

1. "Disclosure Date" means the date shown on any Disclosure Statement you prepare for me (at the date I endorse or negotiate my check).

2. The "Deferment Period" will begin on the Disclosure Date and end on the Deferment End Date.

3. "Deferment End Date" means the date specified below for the applicable loan program (the applicable loan program is stated on the first page of this Credit Agreement).

(a) Education One Undergraduate Alternative Loan Program: If I have elected the "Immediate Repayment" option (the applicable repayment option is stated on the last page of this Credit Agreement), there is no Deferment Period, and my first payment will be 30-60 days after the disbursement of my loan. If I have elected the "Interest Only" repayment option (the applicable repayment option is stated on the last page of this Credit Agreement), then interest payments will begin 30-60 days after the disbursement of my loan. If I have elected the "Deferred" repayment option (the applicable repayment option is stated on the last page of this Credit Agreement), then interest payments will begin 30-60 days after the disbursement of my loan.

(b) Education One Graduate Professional Education Loan Program: The "Deferment End Date" will be 180 days after the Graduate borrowers or deadlines at the School (or another school participating in this Loan Program), and principal and interest payments will begin 30-60 days after that date. In any event, if I have elected the "Full Deferral" repayment option, the Deferment End Date will be no more than 5 years after the Disclosure Date. For borrowers who choose the "Interest Only" or "Full Deferral" repayment options, a student who receives the first full of interest or debt relief (e.g., associates to bachelor's) may continue in-school deferment while completing their second degree, up to the 5-year or 5-year maximum.

Payment Amount would not pay in full the accrued monthly interest on my loan. (c) following any subsequent defaulted or forbearance period or (d) following any request by the Borrower to the servicer to change the monthly payment due date (each of which events is a new "Repayment Date"). As of any Repayment Date, My Monthly Payment Amount will be recalculated. My new Monthly Payment Amount will be disclosed to me by the Servicer. The new Monthly Payment Amount will equal the amount necessary to pay in full, over the number of months remaining in the Repayment Period, the amount I owe in equal monthly installments of principal and interest at the Variable Rate in effect at the time of the calculation. I understand that this may result in a reduction or increase in my monthly payment as calculated as of each Repayment Date. I understand that during the Repayment Period (and, if I have elected the "Interest Only" repayment option, during the period of interest payments) the servicer may change the monthly payment due date of future payments to a later date for the convenience of the servicer in processing payments or in order to coordinate the due dates of all of my loans processed by the servicer.

4. Amount Owning at the End of the Repayment Period - Since interest accrues daily upon the unpaid principal balance of my loan, if I make payments after my payment due dates, I may owe additional principal, interest, and/or late fees at the end of the Repayment Period. If I have not paid my late fees, I will also owe additional amounts for those late fees. In such cases you will increase the amount of my last monthly payment to the amount necessary to repay my loan in full in a single payment.

5. Payments - Payments will be applied first to late fees and other fees and charges, then accrued interest, and the remainder to principal. I will make lump sum payments, I have submitted a single payment that is not sufficient to pay all of the amounts I owe, such payment may be divided between or among the loans in accordance with the Servicer's and the servicer's customary procedures.

6. Other Charges - If any part of my monthly payment remains unpaid for a period of more than 15 days after the payment due date, I will pay a late fee not exceeding $5.00 or 5% of the overdue payment amount, whichever is less. I will pay only one late fee for any (monthly payment, regardless of the number of days it is late). To the extent permitted by law, I agree to pay you all amounts you incur in enforcing the terms of this Credit Agreement, including reasonable collection agency and attorney's fees and court costs and other collection costs.

F. LOAN ORIGINATION FEE: You may charge me an Origination Fee. If you charge me, at the time you issue any disbursement to me, or on my behalf, you may add the Origination Fee to my loan amount. The dollar amount of any Loan Origination Fee will be determined by multiplying the Principal Sum times the Loan Origination Fee Percentage shown on the first page of this Credit Agreement. The percentage would be higher if computed only on the amount advanced rather than on the entire Principal Sum (Loan Origination Fee plus the loan amount advanced). For example, a nominal Loan Origination Fee of 8% on the entire Principal Sum would equal 6.9697% of the loan amount advanced. The Loan Origination Fee I will pay, if any, will be shown on my Disclosure Statement and included with the Principal Sum. To the extent permitted by law, and unless timely cancel this Credit Agreement (see Paragraph B.3.), I will not be entitled to a refund of any Loan Origination Fee after my Disbursement Check has been negotiated.

G. RIGHTS TO PREPAY: I have the right to prepay all or any part of my loan at any time without penalty or charge. I. FORBEARING: If I am unable to repay my loan in accordance with the terms established under this Credit Agreement because of a hardship such as financial or medical difficulty, I may request that you modify these terms. I understand that such modification would be at your option, and, to the extent not prohibited by applicable law, you may charge me a fee equal to two percent (2%) of the outstanding principal balance. If you agree to modify the terms of this Credit Agreement, I understand that you will remain responsible for all interest accruing during any period of forbearance and that you will add any 2% fee described in the previous sentence and all interest that I do not pay during any forbearance period to the principal balance, as described in Paragraph D.3.

I. WHOLE LOAN DUE: To the extent permitted by applicable law, I will be in default if: (1) I fail to make any monthly payment to you when due, (2) I die, (3) I break any of my other promises in this Credit Agreement, (4) any bankruptcy proceeding is begun by or against me, or I assign any of my assets for the benefit of my creditors, or (5) I make any false written statement in applying for this loan or any other loan or at any time during the Deferral or Repayment Periods. I understand that if I default on my loan, disclosure of my loan information to consumer reporting agencies may adversely affect my credit rating. If I default, I will be required to pay interest on this loan accruing after default. The Interest rate after default will be subject to adjustment in the same manner as before default. To the extent permitted by law, upon default, you will have the right to give me notice that the whole outstanding principal balance, accrued interest, and all other amounts payable to you under the terms of this Credit Agreement are due and payable at once. Upon default, you may also capitalize any Interest and fees (i.e., accrued and unpaid interest and fees to the principal balance), and increase the Margin used to compute the Variable Rate by two percentage points (2%).

J. NOTICES: I will send written notice to you, any subsequent holder of this Credit Agreement, and the servicer within ten days after any change in name, address, or enrollment status (for example, if the Borrower withdraws from the School or transfers to another school participating in this loan program).

2. Any notice required to be given to me by you will be effective when mailed by first class mail to the latest address you have for me.

K. INFORMATION: I 1. I must update any and all information related to this Credit Agreement or my loan application whenever you ask me to do so.

2. I authorize you from time to time to request and receive from others credit related information about me (and about my spouse if I live in a community property state). 3. CREDIT BUREAU REPORTING

You may report information about my account to credit bureaus. Late payments, missed payments, or other defaults in my account may be reflected in my credit report.

I understand that the reporting of information about my account to credit bureaus may adversely affect my credit rating and my ability to obtain other credit. You may also provide the School with certain personally identifiable information about me (such as my Social Security Number and my Loan ID number) and report the status of my loan and my payment history, including information about a late payment, missed payment or other defaults, to the School and others in accordance with applicable law.

L. ADDITIONAL AGREEMENTS

1. I understand that you are located in OHIO and that this Credit Agreement will be entered into in the same state CONSEQUENTLY, THE PROVISIONS OF THIS CREDIT AGREEMENT WILL BE GOVERNED BY FEDERAL LAW AND THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF OHIO, WITHOUT REGARD TO CONFLICT OF LAW RULES. 2. The proceeds of this loan will be used only for my educational expenses at the School.

3. My responsibility for paying the loan evidenced by this Credit Agreement is unaffected by the liability of any other person to me or by your failure to notify me that a request payment has not been made. Without losing any of your rights under this Credit Agreement you may accept (a) late payments, (b) partial payments or (c) payments marked "paid in full" or with other restrictions. You may delay, fail to exercise, or waive any of your rights on any occasion without losing your entitlement to exercise the right at any future time, or on any future occasion. You will not be obligated to make any demand upon me, send me any notice, present this Credit Agreement to me for payment or make protest of non-payment to me before suing to collect on this Credit Agreement. I am in default, and to the extent permitted by applicable law, I hereby waive any right I might otherwise have to require such actions. I WILL NOT SEND YOU PAYMENTS MARKED "PAID IN FULL", "WITHOUT RECOURSE" OR WITH OTHER SIMILAR LANGUAGE UNLESS THOSE PAYMENTS ARE MARKED FOR SPECIAL HANDLING AND SENT TO THE ADDRESS IDENTIFIED FOR SUCH PAYMENTS ON MY BILLING STATEMENT, OR TO SUCH OTHER ADDRESS AS IMAY BE GIVEN IN THE FUTURE.

4. I may assign this Credit Agreement or any of its benefits or obligations. You may assign this Credit Agreement at any time.

5. The terms and conditions set forth in this Credit Agreement and the Disclosure Statement constitute the entire agreement between you and me.

6. If any provision of this Credit Agreement is held invalid or unenforceable, that provision shall be considered omitted from this Credit Agreement without affecting the validity or enforceability of the remainder of this Credit Agreement. If I fail to pay this Credit Agreement, I have read and understand the prohibition regarding changes in Paragraph I.

7. A provision of this Credit Agreement may be modified if jointly agreed upon in writing by you and me. Any modification will not affect the validity or enforceability of the remainder of this Credit Agreement. If I fail to pay this Credit Agreement, I have read and understand the prohibition regarding changes in Paragraph I.

8. To the extent permitted by law, you have the right to apply money from any of my deposit account(s) with you to pay all or a portion of any amount overdue under this Credit Agreement. If I am in default at any time (including but not limited to a situation where I give an improper cancellation notice), you may exercise on my behalf any right that I may have to receive a full or partial refund of payments made to the School. I authorize the School to pay any or all of such amounts directly to you upon receipt of notice from you that I am in default under this Credit Agreement.

9. All dollar amounts stated in this Credit Agreement are in United States dollars. I will make all payments in United States dollars with no deduction for currency exchange. 10. The Borrower's failure to complete the education program paid for with this loan will not relieve any Borrower of any obligation under this Credit Agreement.

11. I understand and agree that this loan is an educational loan and certify that it will be used only for costs of attendance at the School. I acknowledge that the requested loan is subject to the limitations on dischargeability in bankruptcy contained in Section 523 (a) (6) of the United States Bankruptcy Code because either or both of the following apply: (A) This loan was made pursuant to a program funded in whole or in part by The Education Resources Institute, Inc. ("TERI"), a non-profit institution, or (B) this is a qualified education loan defined in the Internal Revenue Code. This means that if, in ten years, I leave the bankruptcy, my other debts are discharged, I will probably still have this loan in full.

12. Authorize any school that I may attend to release to you, and any other persons designated by you, any requested information pertinent to this loan (e.g. enrollment status, prior loan history, current address).

13. I authorize the Lender, any subsequent holder of this Credit Agreement, and their agents to: (1) advise the School of the status of my application and my loan, (2) respond to inquiries from prior or subsequent lenders or holders with respect to my Credit Agreement and related documents, (3) release information and make inquiries to the persons I have given you as references, for the purposes of verifying my current address and telephone number, (4) check my credit and employment history and to answer questions about their credit experience with me, and (5) disclose to TERI either in connection with this transaction or any future transaction all information (including status information and non-public personal information) of the Borrower provided in connection with this Credit Agreement.

14. Waiver by Lender: You waive (give up) any right to claim a security interest in any property to secure this Credit Agreement. This does not affect any right to offset as a matter of law.

15. If I fax my signature(s) on the first page of this Credit Agreement back to you and keep the copy I signed, I understand that under federal law the fax you receive will be an original of the first page of this Credit Agreement and I will receive the first page upon request by Lender. I may NOT amend the Credit Agreement by making changes to the Signature Page, which are then faxed to Lender. If the Borrower faxes the Signature Page, and the Lender approves the application, you and I agree that all copies of this Credit Agreement (including the fax you receive and the copy I retain), taken together, shall constitute a single original agreement.

This disclosure statement relates to your Loan Note disbursed on November 15, 2002.

<tbody>
<tr>

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Variable Rate: The Annual Percentage Rate, which is based on an index plus a margin, may increase during the term of the loan if the index rate increases.

- Prime Rate Index: The highest U.S. bank prime rate published in the "Money Rates" section of The Wall Street Journal on the last business day of each calendar month.
- Prime Rate Index Adjusted Quarterly: The highest U.S. bank prime rate published in the "Money Rates" section of The Wall Street Journal on the last business day of each calendar month.
- United States Treasury Bill ("T-Bill") Index: The index is the "Auction Average (tombstone) - 3 month" rate most recently published by the Federal Reserve Board before the first day of the calendar quarter.
- LIBOR Index Adjusted Quarterly: The average of the one-month London Interbank Offered Rates published in the "Money Rates" section of The Wall Street Journal on the first business day of each of the three (3) calendar months immediately preceding the first day of each calendar quarter.

Any increase in the index and the Annual Percentage Rate which occurs while principal payments or principal and interest payments are deferred will increase the amount of any current and all future payments. Any increase in the index and the Annual Percentage Rate which occurs after you have begun to make principal and interest payments on your Loan will increase the number of principal and interest payments you must make, unless the monthly payment amount is not sufficient to pay the monthly accrued interest and to repay the principal amount of the Loan as full over the maximum repayment period, in which case the monthly payment amount may be increased to the minimum amount necessary to do so. For example, if your loan were for $10,000 at 11% for seven years, and the rate increased to 13% in one year after you began making principal and interest payments, you would have to make three additional payments.

Security: You have given a security interest in all refunds or amounts owed to you at any time by the Student's educational institution. Collateral securing other loans with the Lender may also secure this Loan.

Late Charges: If a payment is more than 15 days late, you may be charged $5.00 or 5% of the payment, whichever is less. If you default, Lender (or any subsequent holder of your Loan Note) may increase the margin used to compute the Annual Percentage Rate by two percentage points (2%).

Prepayment: If you pay off early, you will not have to pay a penalty.

See your contract documents for additional information about non-payment, default, any required repayment in full before the scheduled date, prepayment refunds, any security interest and penalties.
